Work Camps Next Step In Prison Plan—Fulton

WE PAY MORE FOR SUGAR THAN ANYONE

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sugar prices in Canada are the highest in the world, crown prosecutor F. O. Meighen said today at the trial of two sugar companies charged with forming a combine.

Mr. Meighen said in a rebuttal statement that there was a price-fixing agreement between eastern and western refineries and that the Manitoba Sugar Company, while it was independent, threatened the whole pricing structure of the Canadian sugar industry.

British Columbia Sugar Refining Company Limited and B.C. Sugar Refinery Limited are being tried on a charge of forming a sugar combine by acquiring control of the Manitoba firm.

Next "forward step" in Canada's gradually-changing penitentiary system will be the establishment of work camps, Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton said here today.

Mr. Fulton made the statement during a tour of the William Head minimum security prison.

He said the federal cabinet had approved a work camp program, and that two officials at penitentiary headquarters had been assigned to survey projects on which prisoners could be employed.

"We feel that certain types of prisoners have a better chance of rehabilitation if they work outdoors during their term," he said. "The projects we have in mind would in no way compete with private industry or labor."

He said the projects would probably be federal ones, in national parks or forest work, with possible provincial projects in the future.

"We will go very slowly," he said. "This is an experiment, just as the minimum security prison here was an experiment when it started."

'Open Type Pen' Proven Success

Interviewed before he began a tour of the William Head establishment, he said it had already proven a great success.

"It was established on a temporary basis, to see if the idea was sound, and also if the location was a good one. The first question has been answered in the affirmative. A decision on the second will be made in the near future."

Mr. Fulton said complaints from residents near the minimum security prison had just about died out. "I have had only one letter of complaint in the past six months, and it was very general in nature."

PTA Rejects Bible Readings

PENTICTON (CP) — Delegates at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Association have rejected the idea of reading the Ten Commandments in schools at least once a week.

A resolution from Westridge PTA in Burnaby near Vancouver calling for this was defeated Wednesday.

The Westridge group said the reading would help combat any tendency toward a breakdown in family life.

The resolutions committee said it was inconceivable that the reading of one passage could stop the breakdown of family life "even if it had been established that such a breakdown was presently occurring in Canada."

Four Girls Killed In Tenement Blaze

WINNIPEG (CP) — Four girls ranging in age from five to 18 died today when fire swept a frame tenement building in central Winnipeg, sending six persons to hospital and forcing evacuation of about 90 persons.

The dead were identified as Catherine Black, 7, her sister, Heather, 5, Doreen Thomas, 17, and her sister, Audrey, 18.

Fire department officials said the blaze started in a small front room of the building, burned through the second and third floors and ate through the roof.

Emergency Session Called

New Vote Urged In Korea Crisis

Rhee Stands 'Almost Alone'

SEOUL (Reuters) — While President Syngman Rhee pondered his crumbling administration, rival political parties met today and decided to hold an emergency session of South Korea's National Assembly Friday.

The 85-year-old president was almost alone as he sought to appease his people and restore order in riot-torn Seoul and other major cities.

Both his cabinet and the central committee of his ruling Liberal party resigned today and accepted responsibility for this week's violence in which hundreds of anti-government demonstrators were killed or wounded.

Unconfirmed newspaper reports said Rhee had also accepted the resignation of his chief secretary, Park Chan Il, a man with considerable influence in Korean politics.

Liberal government party members of the National Assembly and Democratic opposition members decided on the emergency meeting to seek ways of settling the unrest and ending the crisis.

Following the resignations Rhee summoned six senior "neutral" politicians to his residence — guarded by troops, tanks and barbed-wire barricades — to discuss the crisis.

Rhee's opposition continued to demand new presidential elections.

The 85-year-old president's move toward correcting underlying causes of discontent, United States Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy met with Rhee for an hour to press the U.S. demand for more democracy as a solution to the situation.

The retiring ministers neither fixed nor accepted the responsibility for the harsh military suppression of the civilian outbreaks.

There were no reports of renewed violence as troops and police patrolled the cities. But tension mounted as the bodies of demonstrators shot by police were turned over to weeping, wailing relatives.

With at least 1,000 persons shot during the riots, the known death toll stood at 147. Hundreds more still were in critical condition.

Vice-President John M. Chang, leader of the opposition Democratic party, declared there would be no compromise in his party's demand for new elections.

Chang lost his bid for reelection last month to Lee Ki-poong, Rhee's Liberal party running mate. Rhee, running unopposed after the death of the Democratic party candidate, piled up the biggest vote of his career.

The election was the principal issue behind the uprisings. The Democrats have charged Rhee's Liberals with rigging the voting and widespread ballot box stuffing.

The cabinet resignations appeared to be mainly an apology for the bloodshed and not

FOR DE GAULLE

Rousing Montreal Welcome

MONTREAL (CP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France, given a rousing welcome today in this second largest French-speaking city of the world, said today "free men have reason to feel stronger" on the eve of forthcoming summit meetings.

The president made this statement during a brief address at one stage of his six-hour visit.

Following a welcome at city hall, de Gaulle went to a mid-town hotel. Across from the hotel in Dominion Square a tremendous crowd, estimated to be at least 10,000, was jammed.

Speaking in French at a reception at Montreal city hall, de Gaulle said "the spectacle of this very great and very beautiful city is a source of comfort to me on the eve of great meetings."

His address of about three minutes was in reply to an official welcome by Senator Sarto Fournier, mayor of Montreal, an hour after the president had arrived at Montreal airport from Quebec City.

CROWD OF 2,500

When de Gaulle stepped from the city hall to go to a downtown hotel he walked across the street to shake hands with a group of veterans among the crowd of 2,500. Immediately 40 or 50 spectators broke through the police cordon and crowded about the laughing president.

Some succeeded in shaking his hand. Others managed only to pat his shoulders, with cries of "Vive de Gaulle" in the good-natured jesting and milling about.

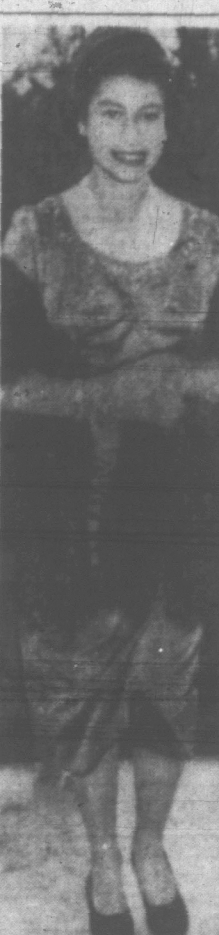

RCMP and city police had a strenuous time in freeing the president, who seemed to enjoy every second of the spontaneous demonstration before moving to his limousine.

At the Windsor Hotel, in mid-town Montreal, de Gaulle tendered a reception to about 600 members of the French colony in Montreal.

De Gaulle concludes his four-day tour of Canada Friday with a 17-hour visit to Toronto.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Eternal God, our Father, teach us the true meaning of fellowship. May we not seek it of Thee until we have found it in each other, nor count that which we find in each worthy until we also find it in Thee. May we not seek for privilege, only communion and trust and the deeper knowledge of the reality of Thy presence. Help us to grow in the culture of this fellowship and become true sons of God, forever, in Christ's name. Amen.

QUEEN ELIZABETH ... 34 today

TOWNSEND IN U.K.

Monarch Shares Headlines

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, who reached the age of 34 today, shared newspaper space with Peter Townsend.

Princess Margaret's former heart throb brought his bride of four months to Britain for the first time and hit the news papers only two weeks before Margaret marries commoner Antony Armstrong-Jones.

"Has there ever been anyone like Townsend," asked Daily Express columnist William Hickey, "for backing cautiously, timidly, diffidently, devastatingly into the limelight?"

Townsend packed his bags today and with his bride headed for France. He had been here nearly a week. But his presence only became known Wednesday.

He said he had been visiting his mother in rural Somerset.

"Many people were surprised," wrote the Daily Mail's Paul Tansley, "that Townsend should choose this moment to make his first trip to London since his marriage."

B.C. Blocks Columbia, Says Winch

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harold Winch said Wednesday night the British Columbia government "wants to do everything to stop development of the Columbia River."

"It is obvious that they have a commitment with somebody for something," said the OCP member of parliament for Vancouver East at a constituency meeting.

He said by favoring the High Arrow dam the government is attempting to block full development of the Columbia.

Construction of the High Arrow would mean B.C. would not "get one horsepower of power produced in our own country" because it would merely be a reservoir for power facilities in the U.S. and could not be used to generate power on the spot.

"If that happens it will be the greatest sell-out of our day," he said.

East German Police Foray Across Border

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist police entered West Berlin today and tried to impose anti-refugee controls on elevated railways in the allied areas.

They fled back across the Iron Curtain when West German police showed up.

The move was part of a desperate Communist effort to halt a sudden mass flight of refugees from the Soviet occupation zone. Earlier the Reds had ordered a slowdown in their nationalization of

THIS WORLD OF OURS People and Things

(Times News Services)

LONDON — Eighty scrubwomen armed with mops and feather dusters marched today on their boss—the British government. They demanded fair pay and play.

Floors of government ministries went unswept and wastepaper baskets overflowed as the "Mrs. Mopps" paraded proudly down Whitehall in brilliant sunshine.

The charwomen waved their mops, along with banners declaring "Justice for chars" and "Fair play for Mrs. Mopps" to the delight of the onlookers.

It was a rare performance for the middle-aged women who normally work in the early morning hours before government offices are opened for the day. Six uniformed policemen guided the noisy, chattering procession to the treasury building.

The women handed in a protest claiming that a reduction of their hours from 30 to 27 a week had cut their pay too much.

Revolt Crushed ---Leader Flees

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The rebel stronghold in San Cristobal crumbled today under the threat of a battle with troops and tanks of President Romulo Betancourt's army. The rebel leader was in flight with his aides.

Jesus Maria Castro Leon, the ambitious former general in the Venezuelan Air Force who led the rebel troops across the border from Colombia Wednesday, apparently was heading back where he came from.

Reports from San Cristobal said farmers armed with machetes captured two of the fleeing rebel officers, former Lt.-Col. Juan de Dios Moncada Vidal, who is an aide to Castro Leon, and Maj. Bernabe Serrano, a young army officer who joined the rebels Wednesday.

Betancourt, supported by political, military and labor leaders who thwarted Castro Leon's plan for a nation-wide uprising, sent loyal forces to San Cristobal, capital of Tachira state.

TWO STUDENTS KILLED

So far the invasion has been virtually bloodless. Government officials telephoned San Cristobal and were told that two students were killed and four were wounded in street fights with the rebels Wednesday.

Col. Francisco Lizarazo, who turned over San Cristobal's 400-man garrison to the rebels Wednesday, was arrested this morning and replaced by Col. Miguel Arce, who refused to submit to the rebels.

The rush to the border began shortly after the government announced air force planes would begin machine-gunning the Bolivar barracks, which the rebels had held for 24 hours.

BLOCK ESCAPE

Venezuelan frontier guards already had repulsed some rebel units trying to escape.

TRAFFIC FINES

Scene of abortive revolt Wednesday in Venezuela is seen in above map. Rebels seized control of army regiment headquarters at San Cristobal in an effort to set off a nationwide rebellion against President Betancourt's government.

New Plan by U.S. For Arms Control

GENEVA (Reuters)—The United States today proposed a four-point plan for verifying American and Soviet armed force levels.

Russia accepted some general aspects of the proposal, but criticized details.

U.S. delegate Frederick Eaton unveiled the plan at the 10-nation disarmament conference.

Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin said many of the considerations outlined by Eaton "do not raise any objections." These included provisions that disarmament measures should correspond to control measures and control measures should not be carried out before there was agreement on disarmament measures.

But Zorin criticized Eaton's proposal for verification of armed forces levels every three months. "This had nothing to do with disarmament," he said.

ON-SITE INSPECTIONS

The U.S. plan includes unscheduled on-site inspections every three months. The U.S. and Russia would keep one another informed periodically of troop levels and the general location of contingents of more than 5,000 men.

Selection of areas and units to be checked would be made at random to prevent any cheating. Navy personnel would be verified while ships are in port.

Eaton was trying once again to talk Russia into negotiating on a specific proposal. A week ago he offered the five Communist delegations a list of nine disarmament and control measures. He invited them to pick any one for negotiations. Zorin formally rejected the entire list Wednesday, saying the measures concentrated too much on controls.

The conference has been deadlocked on how to start up negotiations ever since it convened March 15. Today's meeting was the first of seven sessions before the conference adjourns April 29 until June 7. During the adjournment, it

X-RAYS END MYSTERY ILLNESS

Heart Trouble Diagnosed ---Girl Has Two of Them

PARIS (Reuters)—Doctors here have found the reason for a 17-year-old Italian girl's illness which had baffled experts for years—she has two hearts.

The girl, Carmela di Felice, who lives in France with her family, was admitted to a hospital near here complaining that she was constantly tired and out of breath—the trouble that had afflicted her for as long as she could remember.

Doctors back home in Bari, Italy, had diagnosed heart trouble and prescribed injections.

But the French doctors went a step further—they x-rayed her.

They discovered that Carmela has two hearts, one on each side of her body. Even more remarkable, one heart—the left one—has two aorta arteries and the other has three. The aorta is the main blood vessel in the heart, and most hearts have only one.

Carmela is under observation in hospital at Saint-Germain-en-Laye while doctors decide whether an operation is possible. They are reported to have asked for an observation period of three years before any surgery is attempted.

'Enforce Drug Laws' ---Fulton

Justice Minister
Outlines Program

VANCOUVER (CP)—A scheme of federal-provincial co-operation to reduce the narcotics available for illegal use, prevent creation of new addicts and reduce demand for drugs by existing addicts was advocated Wednesday by Justice Minister Fulton as a means of solving the problem of criminal drug addiction.

He said he hoped that in the near future federal-provincial discussions would be held toward this end.

Mr. Fulton discussed the narcotics problem in an address before the Canadian Club here.

He said Canada has 3,000 criminal addicts at present, or one in every 5,700 population. More than half of these are in British Columbia, he said, with the concentration in the city of Vancouver, where one in every 300 residents is a criminal addict.

NATIONAL PROBLEM

The problem was national in scope, but it needed joint action by federal and provincial authorities to correct it.

Mr. Fulton said the correctional planning committee of his department had made certain recommendations designed to give effect to the federal-provincial co-operation.

The recommendations were based on the view that both federal and provincial law should provide for commitment to custody for treatment of addicts, with the federal law applying to those addicts committed in criminal proceedings, and the provincial law to those addicts not charged with criminal offences.

The latter would require special legislation in British Columbia to provide for compulsory commitment for treatment of persons found to be addicted to narcotic drugs.

Mr. Fulton proposed his three-pronged attack on this basis:

1. Reduce drugs available for illegal use through enforcement of existing laws;
2. Prevent creation of new addicts, largely a question of segregation of addicts from non-addicts;
3. Reduce and, if possible, eliminate demand for drugs by existing addicts, a question of treatment and training of addicts.

'WHY DOESN'T BENNETT CUT SALES TAX?'

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Justice Minister Fulton said Wednesday night the British Columbia government should reduce its five-per-cent sales taxes because of aid given by Ottawa for hospital insurance.

The federal government expects to pay $21,000,000 as its share of the plan this year, he told a public meeting here. When the B.C. sales tax was introduced, the provincial government said 40 per cent of the revenue would go for hospital insurance.

Since the federal government assumed half the cost of the plan in July, 1958, more than $27,000,000 has been given to B.C., the justice minister said.

"I think you are entitled to ask what is being done with the money. I have never heard Mr. Bennett promise any relief in this field."

DEEP SENTIMENTS REKINDLED

Signs of Home Around Him As De Gaulle Sees Quebec

BY RICHARD DAIGNAULT
QUEBEC (CP)—Everywhere President Charles de Gaulle of France looked he could see the imprint of his native country.

Whether it was a narrow street lined with high stone buildings topped with Norman-style roofs or a religious institution built by French artists at the time France was a colonial power in America, he could see the work of Frenchmen who founded and built this city.

He could hear French in accents that were in style in the 18th century and also in the more familiar intonation of the elite class of the city.

FEW TURN OUT

The presence of the impressive French personality kindled deep-rooted sentiments, although only a relatively slim proportion of the city's population turned out to see him.

Here is how Msgr. Alphonse-Marie Parent, rector of Laval University, put it as he welcomed the French president at the institution which grew out of a college founded 300 years ago by a French bishop.

"If we take such close interest in the political events that concern the future of France, it is because we understand the prestige of French in our country, as in the rest of the world, is tied up closely with the prestige of France."

"What benefits France, benefits French-Canada itself, just as what hinders France cannot but have an effect here among us."

SOFT WORDS BY SAUER

Africa Cabinet Split?

CAPETOWN, South Africa (Reuters)—The government group from the main opposition United Party.

He referred to a speech on Tuesday by acting cabinet chairman Paul Sauer, who said there must be an important change in the practical application of apartheid (racial segregation).

The demand for a clarifying statement was made Wednesday night by Harry Lawrence, chairman of the Progressive Party.

man in the absence of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd, still recovering from injuries suffered when a white farmer tried to assassinate him April 9.

Verwoerd was expected to be able to give full attention to his duties in about a week. Sauer's speech was followed by a statement in Parliament Wednesday by External Affairs Minister Eric Louw. He said the government's apartheid policy remained basically unchanged.

Meanwhile, the number of Negroes arrested in raids since Monday mounted to at least 1,200 with Wednesday's roundup of 550 in Negro townships.

The raids were organized by police in a successful attempt to break the back of a stay-at-home campaign.

CHOU HAS PROBLEM

India Leaders Grim, Unyielding in Talks

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai made the rounds of India's stern statesmen today in the second day of his mission to smooth over the Chinese-Indian border dispute.

Communist diplomats said privately that Chou was ready to make substantial concessions to ease the strained relations between the two nations over Chinese claims to Indian frontier territory.

But the Indian statesmen were reported to be in a grim and unyielding mood, unwilling to accept any settlement which might mean condoning the aggression they accuse China of having committed.

At a glittering state banquet Wednesday night, both Chou and Nehru were cautious after their first day of talks.

Chou said the boundary dispute had "difficult aspects" but he was convinced it could be settled.

Nehru said any solution must be in accordance with the dignity and self-respect of each country, as well as in keeping with the larger causes of peace in Asia and the world.

CANADIANS FEEL STRONGLY ABOUT S.A.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Wednesday that citizens have written him expressing strong views on South Africa's racial problems.

But he said in an interview that there had been a disproportionate number of letters either favoring or opposing the Canadian government's attitude.

He said the amount of mail on the subject was no more than the usual number sent him on a subject of current interest.

The government has not expressed outright criticism of the South African apartheid policy of complete racial separation between whites and Negroes.

All Aid Short of Help

CITY AND MUNICIPAL COUNCILS throughout the province have received the Government's word on school grants for the coming year. Despite additional aid to the municipalities, almost every property taxpayer's levy will likely be up. The debt-free Government's additional $22 grant to individuals will be deeply bitten into and in some cases cancelled out by increased property taxes. The relief plan turns out to be chiefly a name.

It was against this background of constantly increasing burden on the property owner that the Vancouver Board of Trade recently endorsed the principles of provincial aid to municipalities set out last year by the Union of B.C. Municipalities. The B.C. Teachers' Federation proposes a plan for greater contributions to education by the provincial Government—greater than the partial increases announced yesterday.

These proposals reflect the public concern over the increasingly difficult financial plight of the municipalities and the increasing burden borne by property owners.

Mr. Bennett has recognized the existence of the problem but his solution has not approached the basic difficulty. He turned over from provincial funds a grant of $28 to property taxpayers, and then increased it to $50 in the last budget. The scheme falls short in several particulars.

Already rising assessments and tax rates have eaten up most of the $50 grant. What happens now? Is the grant to be increased each year to stave off the effects of increasing property taxes? Obviously the grants can never be decreased; they can only increase.

But the grants have within themselves the seeds of their own failure to provide lasting relief. Municipal councils, faced with mounting costs, must inevitably succumb to the very human reasoning that since the taxpayer has been given relief to the extent of $50, he will not complain too strenuously if the taxes are raised by part of this amount. The taxes therefore go up, and soon the ratepayer is as badly off as before.

In reality he is worse off, for the $50 grant to him as a property owner comes out of his own pocket as a provider of provincial revenues in one form or another. Mr. Bennett does not create the grants out of thin air—he merely returns some of the citizen's own money to him.

Mounting school costs constitute one of the most pressing municipal problems. The teachers, the school boards and the municipal governments recognize the fact. The provincial Government must recognize it too, but Mr. Bennett has been so busy pretending to wipe out provincial debt, and embarking on eye-catching development schemes, that he has so far refused to come to grips with the problem.

The UBCM proposal urged acceptance of the principle that municipalities be responsible for expenditures that pertain to property and the province accept responsibility for expenditures pertaining to people.

Thus the municipalities would finance local roads and streets, parks, sewers and similar things. The senior government would pay for education and such services.

The arrangement appears to be an equitable system of financing. The citizen, of course, must still be the source of revenue but the heavy burden on him as a householder would be eased and income would be better appreciated as a criterion of ability to pay.

Mr. Bennett must recognize that what is needed is not a person-to-person handout such as the $50 grant represents, with all its vote-getting potential, but a realistic approach to the fundamental problem. He cannot long delay such an approach.

Misunderstanding F.O.B. Detroit

IT IS SOMEWHAT ASTONISHING that a newspaper as close to the Canadian border as the Detroit Times should carry an editorial—and a front-page, at that—denouncing Canadians for a currency discount habit that "smacks not only of cupidity but also usury." One would have thought that this item of schoolboy knowledge had penetrated even editorial sanctuaries.

Currencies are bought and sold in the market just like commodities and they are subject to the same economic laws. When a lot of people with American dollars want to buy Canadian dollars they start offering a little more in order to get what they want. They will offer $1.01 American for $1.00 Canadian. And if the competitive bidding continues the price will go up and up, just as it does when buyers are bidding for eggs or Van Gogh paintings or real estate.

For the past several years there has been heavy investment in Canada by American investors—investment, incidentally, which we have been very glad to get. But the result of this movement of capital has been to drive up the price of the Canadian dollar in terms of American currency as much as five and six cents, since the investor must purchase Canadian funds and bid for them. This rise was not due to some evil and usurious impulse on the part of Canadians; it was due to the desire of American investors to develop our resources at a gain to themselves and to us.

But American tourists and casual visitors and Detroit Times editors are not necessarily in touch with the larger developments. All they know is that when they buy something in Canada which according to the price tag costs $1.00, they are asked to hand over $1.05 or so of their own money, and they feel that they are being imposed on.

Mr. Barrette's Example

PREMIER BARRETTE, OF QUEBEC, has wisely insisted that his children learn English. Perhaps he remembers the distinguished example of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose parents placed him for two years in an English-speaking family where he became perfectly bilingual and later was one of the greatest orators of the English language.

But most English-speaking parents of Canada are little concerned with our second official language. As the magazine Industry observes, the 1951 census revealed that only 12 Canadians in every 100 could speak both English and French, as against 67 who could speak only English and 20 only French.

"We should certainly aim," Industry urges, "to have at least half the population bilingual by the end of the century if not before. Premier Barrette is providing an admirable example, one which we would hope will be followed by other French-speaking parents in Quebec and elsewhere across Canada."

On the other hand, "English-speaking Canadians for their part should wish to have their children learn French not only because their lives will be that much richer but also because it, no less than English, is an integral part of the Canadian heritage and culture and as such it should belong to us all."

Also because the young Canadians who speak both languages will have a great advantage in business and the professions.

On a Cinder in the Void

MR. PHILIP NOEL-BAKER, who won the Nobel Peace Prize last year, has recently contributed the following statement to the comfort of mankind: "I think it quite likely—if I were asked to bet I would say it was about even—that within 10 years the governments will not have a disarmament."

We shall have had a nuclear war; we, our children and grand-children will all be dead, and the world will be spinning, a lifeless, radioactive, incinerated globe throughout eternity."

It will be a striking picture, if some telescope on another planet can see it, that spherical cinder which once produced men, poems, flowers, music and all sorts of strange things but now produces nothing except poison rays and a faint smell of burning.

Mr. Noel-Baker's prediction may well be correct, the chances against it no better than even, but hardly anyone will believe him. That is the real trouble with all the attempts to prevent man's suicide—hardly anyone believes that it is going to happen, simply because it has never happened before. The fact that nuclear fission itself never happened before does not shake the unconquerable optimism of our species.

So far no man of eminence has been able to puncture it with any form of words and all the dire statistics of the scientists have long since gone stale. Language and figures fail because human imagination is inadequate. We can imagine individual death, we live with it day and night, but we cannot imagine collective death. The thing is too big to grasp.

Mr. Noel-Baker perhaps has come nearest to an adequate description. Our Mr. Pearson has tried his hand and remarked that "we continue to act like delinquent pygmies... our behavior is sub-normal." But the simpler and truer way to say it is that as a species sane up all unimportant things we are, in the final and important thing, as crazy as coots.

Consequently our better statesmen, feeling like visitors to an asylum for the violently insane, find it necessary to speak in whispers and move with caution, lest they arouse the inmates, until presently everyone is talking in the language of lunacy and it is impossible to distinguish the patients from the doctors.

In Canada we got a brief whiff of this atmosphere the other day when a leading civil servant informed our parliamentarians that a hydrogen bomb would kill everyone in Ottawa instantly before the government could move to its new concrete refuge, that half the nation would be extinguished outright in a major attack and the rest shortly afterwards by radio-active fallout, but he added hastily that he didn't wish to say anything disagreeable for fear of alarming the public.

That gentleman needn't worry. He won't alarm the public. All the fire alarms have been rung over and over again for years until no one pays any more attention.

A few yards away, while the civil servant was sparing the public's nerves, parliament was working on plans of social security and Mr. Fleming was boasting of a surplus in his fund to care for the aged who, if Mr. Noel-Baker is right, have only a 50-50 chance of getting the money.

That situation is not unique in Ottawa. Everywhere bedlam goes cheerfully about its business, convinced that anyone outside its walls is mad.

Since they dare not admit the original fallacy on which all this solemn nonsense is built, the statesmen of the great nations continue their negotiations in a kind of frozen trance like performers in an Indian sun dance or head shrinkers before a jungle fire. The fallacy, of course, is that the great nations, and the small ones, too, are now as obsolete as the crossbow, the musket or the bomb.

BUT you can't expect statesmen to admit that palpable truth. They must maintain the good old myth of national sovereignty even if it makes no more sense nowadays than the horse and buggy.

A world which can be spanned in a few hours by airplane and in a few minutes by missile still holds some 80 constitutional clusters of human beings all absolutely identical beneath the skin but all asserting that they are different, all claiming independent control of their own minor affairs but none immune to those rays of poison.

They have precisely the same independence as two men adrift in a leaky lifeboat, fighting for their prestige and sacred honor as it sinks.

We may be sure, therefore, that if Mr. Noel-Baker's gamble turns against us, that as the nations sink they will affirm their sovereignty with their last words, they will flourish their written constitutions and neatly-printed contracts until the waves close above them, when those documents will be flimsy ashes in the void.

WE shall then have achieved the final logic of the sovereign state, the sovereignty of extinction, the eternal autonomy of silence, the ultimate social security even better than the old-age pension.

But hardly anyone believes in that possibility. Like the fallacy itself the end result is too obvious to attract attention. Like a householder, we take our house for granted till it burns down and call the fire department too late.

When that last alarm is turned in there won't even be a fire department to answer, only the principle of sovereignty, unquestioned by any voice and proclaimed forever by that curious monument, the revolving cinder.

Can Germany Be Reunited?

THE omens are now more favorable than at the summit meeting in May that there will be no serious crisis over the German question, no irreconcilable conflict between the Russians and ourselves, no real quarrel between the British and the West Germans. The prospects are that there will be much talk but no negotiations, a about the German question and there is a fair prospect of an interim working arrangement about West Berlin. Something, it would seem, has happened to change the climate.

The public thing that has happened is that Mr. Khrushchev has been to Paris, has had talks with Gen. de Gaulle, and that while nothing concrete was agreed upon, Mr. Khrushchev went home in a good humor.

As we know that Gen. de Gaulle is a hard and resolute man who gives away nothing he thinks he wants to keep, and as Mr. Khrushchev is a tough and persistent man, why is it that the confrontation of these two men has been followed by such an improvement in the atmosphere?

Common Thought

My guess is that on the German question there is now, as between France and the Soviet Union, a basic parallelism—that it is most likely that Mr. K has now at last realized it. He has realized too, we may assume, that on the German question Gen. de Gaulle is in a position to speak for the West.

The basis of this parallelism of policy is that in neither camp is there any serious intention of proceeding towards the reunification of Germany.

On both sides there is a fear of the power of a reunited Germany. This is the basic understanding which, if it cannot now be publicly avowed by either side, makes it likely that there will be no collision at the summit.

Both sides realize that in the long run German nationalism will not accept gladly the present dismemberment. But for the short run which may be at least a few more years, the partition is acceptable, indeed unavoidable, as long as the occupying powers are determined not to risk a war over the German question.

The Germans are not strong enough to unify themselves and the United States has no intention whatever of going to war in order to unify them. On the other hand, a deal between West Germany and the Soviet Union at the expense of Poland and the West, though a theoretical possibility, would now be enormously and intolerably dangerous.

Unspoken Agreement

Though there is no agreement between the West and the East, a decision has in fact been taken to keep Germany divided. On both sides, the decision is masked by official formulae.

On the Soviet side the formula is to say that East and West Germany are "free" to work out their own reunion. On the Western side the real decision is masked by the repetition of the demand that the two Germanys should be reunited by a free election.

Beneath these formulae, which are really fictions used for propaganda and for the sake of appearances, the reality is something like this:

The Soviet Union means to raise the standard of life in East Germany to a level where East Germany can stand comparison with West Germany. Moscow believes that this will greatly reduce German popular pressure for reunification.

The West, with France as its leader in this matter, is determined to give the West Germans prosperity in the Common Market and status in NATO; it is determined to give the West Germans everything they want except the reunification of their country.

Mr. K would like to imprison and isolate the West Germans. The French intend to elect them to their clubs, and to bind them by self-interest against the lures and the snares of reunification.

Seen from Europe, there are now five Germanys—West Germany, East Germany, West Berlin, the lands beyond the Oder-Neisse which are annexed by Poland, and Austria.

Fleeting Unity

Only once in modern times have all these been united under one government, and that was under Hitler from 1933 to 1945. Only from 1870 to 1945 were the Germans minus Austria united under one government in Berlin.

So, seen from Europe, the division of the Germans, which has resulted from the dismemberment of Hitler's empire, is more "normal" than is their union.

The Western allies are firmly and unanimously agreed in insisting upon the separateness of Austria. They are for all practical purposes unanimous in regarding the lands beyond the Oder-Neisse as permanently lost to Poland. When we speak of reunification, we mean the reunification of East and West Germany with its capital in a reunited Berlin.

Though we all speak of it more or less, the fact is that France does not want the reunification. Britain does not want it. While the United States has some yearnings for it, it accepts the partition. And Adenauer's Germany opposes the partition in principle but is quite willing to live with it in fact.

All this narrows the German question down to the question of West Berlin. For on the future of the various Germanys there is a working understanding between East and West.

Second Thoughts

There is some reason to think that the new flexibility, which the Russians had hinted at recently, may be due to their having had some second thoughts about Berlin.

It was easy to say that the allied occupation of West Berlin must end. But what if the impossible happened, what if the allies did in fact surrender West Berlin to Eastern Germany, what would happen if Berlin became the biggest city in Eastern Germany?

For West Berlin would have to be united with East Berlin and the result would be a quarrelsome city of three and a half million people as the capital of a country of about 18 millions. The Berliners are a lively lot, and in trying to swallow them, the East German state might well be biting off more than it could chew.

We do not know this, but it is not at all improbable that Mr. K may be thinking it would be safer if Berlin remains divided, and if West Berlin is insulated from Communist Germany.

Thus, it may well be that a working arrangement, which leaves intact the substance of Western rights, is possible if we can bring to the negotiation sufficient resourcefulness and ingenuity. (c) 1960 New York Herald Tribune Inc.

On Their Own Feet

An open letter to the potential university students. Stand on your own feet and earn your own money for your university. Don't expect hand-outs from anyone—least of all elderly people who have worked hard and sometimes almost starved to put Victoria where it is.

So many things you can do—give up smoking, driving cars, and the luxuries which do nothing for your character, baby-sit, garden, cut wood, many such jobs would bring in the money you need without begging.

You are young and strong—get out and work. Give Canada strength not weakness. So long as you take money from other people you will end up by being nothing.

Very, very sincerely for a strong Canada.

Take Stock

Prime Minister Diefenbaker has taken no action in the South African affair.

It is my opinion, as it is the opinion of others, that the stand taken is very weak to say the least. The action of the police in South Africa is an act of cowardice and fear. The cry of White Supremacy is growing rather boring and false.

The murder of all those natives proves that white skin does not make men. It is time to take stock and stop fooling ourselves. The colored races can see through this farce. Why can't we?

Oak Bay Representation

It is reported in the press that Reeve George Murdoch may be approached by Social Credit Party to stand for Oak Bay. The poverty of ideas amongst the personnel of the party is obvious in this overture.

Here is a man who has served on the Oak Bay Council for years and who has persistently opposed by every means in his power, including a recent broadcast, the Social Credit policy in municipal affairs, and yet the Social Credit people now have the audacity to think that such a pillar of political wisdom in municipal matters, who has served Oak Bay so faithfully, could even consider such a ludicrous proposal.

The Reeve is a free man to make his own decision, but the Oak Bay voters in recently re-electing George Murdoch to highest office showed their faith in his stand against the Social Credit Government's wrecking of municipal affairs. These same people trust their Reeve to continue his worthy fight for municipal freedom.

The electors of Oak Bay cannot countenance the possibility, let alone the probability, of a man of his integrity becoming a turncoat in these moral principles, and they will also note with amazement these tactics of the Oak Bay Social Crediters in scraping the bottom of their political barrel in this incredibly ridiculous move.

Black Borders

I suggest that every newspaper in this vast country carry black borders all around the front page to draw public attention to the conditions in South Africa and not remove them until justice is done to our colored brothers.

I should say right is done, for history shows it's easier to do justice than it is to do right. Until we insist that we will never condone, that we will always abhor the unrighteous treatment of minority groups of whatever color, we shall not deserve peace of mind, or to live in peace.

If God made man there is no doubt He made him in a variety of colors! JEAN PIERRE.

No Regl Interest

Socialists are sometimes scoffed at when they attempt to show modern wars are a contest for markets, raw materials and trade routes by the various world master classes, with, of course, the co-operation of an untransformed world's working class.

May we now add the statements of British Prime Minister Macmillan (Times March 30, 1960) re the "Inner Six" trade block to an already overwhelming amount of evidence. Some may be shocked at Mr. Macmillan's thinly veiled threat to ally Britain with Russia for a better trade deal. Others may be confused at Britain's readiness to ally herself with Nazis and Fascists against oppressive, undemocratic, so-called communism one year and her willingness to ally with so-called Communists against dictatorial Nazis another year.

Socialists will not allow themselves to be confused by an unconvincing denial from London. We must however wonder how long it will take the world's workers to see that they have no real interest in murdering each other for the benefit of their respective master classes.

Selfish Slobs

I SEE THAT, on Tuesday, one of the main-land papers had an amusing, minor editorial on Spring coming to Victoria in the form of a daffodil-picking, egg-smashing spree in Beacon Hill Park on Easter Sunday afternoon.

The editorial suggests that Victorians are too hot-blooded to be offered such heady amusements as a search for colored Easter eggs, and the intoxicating sight of an eight-foot-high Easter Bunny.

Well, fun is fun, and I had a good laugh over the editorial.

But what happened in Beacon Hill Park last Sunday afternoon wasn't fun.

It was a breakdown of good manners, good sense, and general morale.

As an isolated incident, it is perhaps of no great importance.

But such incidents are vivid reminders that the primitives are still with us.

For the happenings in Beacon Hill Park sprang from the primitive emotions of over-excitement, and greed, greed rampant and unrestrained by any attempt at self-control or good taste.

It was a hysterical outburst of "What's in it for me?" and "Let's get what we can while the going's good," and "Who cares? They'll never be able to pin it on us in all this mob," and "Everyone else is doing it, why shouldn't we?"

The terrifying part is that the havoc in the Park was largely the work of adults. And these so-called adults were ordinary citizens of the kind who are meant to form the backbone of the nation, and to set an example of steadiness and self-control to the younger generation.

If they can lose their heads like this over a bunch of daffodils, what would they be like in any sort of crisis or emergency? Can you see them on the highway if, by any chance, the city had to be evacuated after a bombing attack?

The chances are they'd be shoving and pushing and screaming and cursing, and knocking down anyone who stood in their way. Just a mob out of control.

Mind you, I know they weren't as bad as that in the Park.

But an exhibition like last Sunday's should make us realize how little it takes to turn normally decent citizens into selfish, thoughtless slobs.

Berlin on Agenda For Summit Talks

LONDON (Reuters) — East and West appeared ready today to discuss a Berlin compromise at summit talks starting in Paris May 16.

Several speeches in the last 24 hours from both sides of the Iron Curtain indicate the Berlin-Germany problem may get equal priority with disarmament at the summit.

This runs counter to the repeated appeals of French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to leave the Berlin situation alone.

KHRUSHCHEV IN FAVOR

Even Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has declared disarmament should get top priority at the Paris conference.

Walter Ulbricht, East Germany's deputy premier and Communist party chief, told a television audience Wednesday his government is ready for a compromise on West Berlin's status.

All East Germany wants, he said, is to end "hostile activity" in West Berlin against his regime and to reduce the Western garrison in the city.

Tax Boost 1½ to 2 Mills

Oak Bay municipality's $1,863,498 budget estimated for this year will likely mean a tax increase of from 1½ to two mills.

Reeve George Murdoch said this would amount to about $20 yearly on a $10,000 home, "which isn't too high under the circumstances."

The increase was foreseen by the reeve due to increased wages for police, firemen and inside and outside municipal workers.

There was the possibility the budget might be cut somewhat when studied in closed committee, but Mr. Murdoch was not too confident.

"The only way we could do that would be to find some way to increase the revenue or do some cutting back on public works."

School rate was expected to remain the same with a total of $582,030 needed for the year.

High Blood Pressure

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Back around 1919, when I was making a statistical study of blood pressures in some 15,000 university freshmen, I came to a conclusion which at that time few physicians could accept, and that was that in persons under the age of 40 a blood pressure of 140 systolic and 80 diastolic meant that, later in life, the person would have hypertension.

Recently, a report was made to the American Public Health Association by Edward A. Lew, a statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He has carried out an extensive study of what happened to slightly hypertensive persons over a 20-year period. His conclusion is that a pressure of even 140/80 in a seemingly healthy person under the age of 40 indicates a 30 per cent higher-than-normal mortality risk.

The study showed, also, what I learned long ago from abundant experience, and this is that women stand high blood pressure much better than men do. In many women past 50 it does not behave like a disease, and the woman is little likely to come to grief because of it. Factors that make the outlook worse for a person are over-weight, a family history of early death due to trouble with the arteries in the brain or the heart or the kidneys, and the constant presence of albumin in the urine.

Today, people who are definitely under-weight represent the best mortality risks. Everyone should know that there are four grades of hypertension—Grades 1 and 2 are not very bad; Grade 3 is bad, and usually soon incapacitates a man. Grade 4 is what is called malignant hypertension. One type is rapidly fatal, while another type is sometimes compatible with a high degree of recovery.

Doctors have long suspected that the temper of dogs is due to one of the viruses that attack man. Now that experts can say with much certainty that two viruses are identical, these hunches can be proved to be correct or incorrect.

I was just reading that Dr. J. W. Skaggs, of the Kentucky State Department of Health, has reported that the viruses of human measles and canine distemper are so closely related, that the injection into a dog of measles virus will produce a typical distemper.

So far, the experts have not produced measles in a child by injecting the virus of distemper, but a vaccine made from a weakened distemper virus appears to protect children from measles—which is very hopeful news.

I read recently in Science News Letter that the Deans of 84 medical schools agree that in 1959, research on man's heredity stole the spotlight. Some of the workers even got a Nobel Prize. Professor S. Stone feels, as do many other scientists, that in 1959, the biggest single achievement of medical research was the discovery of many facts about the chemistry of human genetics.

Two of the complicated essential chemicals in the nucleus of cells have been synthesized. This was a magnificent achievement.

All of this makes me feel justified and glad because for the past few years I have been prophesying that as soon as medical men develop the courage to break away from the long-existing psychiatric tabu against any study or even mention of heredity, medical research will jump ahead into a wonderful new field. Then, many men will throw great new light on the nature of a number of now puzzling diseases.

In that day, men may even have the courage to read the big book on human heredity which I published late in 1958 (Practical Leads to Puzzling Diagnoses: Neuroses That Run Through Families—Lippincott). That book tells what actually happened to the members of several generations of 673 families whom I knew. Some people may try to explain away the facts with theories, but that is their privilege. I just presented the facts as they were given me by the families.

'Canada Needs Medical Plan'

VANCOUVER (CP) — Prof. William Dixon of the University of B.C. school of social work says Canada should be planning a comprehensive medical scheme.

"Canada needs to plan like Britain for a scheme of comprehensive medical care," he said in an interview today.

He said he does not suggest there is no room for voluntary effort.

"I believe in partnership between public and private agencies."

HOME GARDEN

By JACK BEASTALL

Soil May Be Root of Trouble

Until quite recently the acid loving plants have been omitted from small, home gardens because it was thought impossible to provide conditions to suit their needs.

It was only on large estates or in public parks that we could enjoy such plants as rhododendrons, azaleas, camellias, skimmias, pieris, andromeda, and summer flowering heathers.

Plant research has shown these to be less critical of soil conditions than we were led to believe, and this knowledge, coupled with the availability of acid peat-moss and acid reacting fertilizers, has opened new avenues to small garden enjoyment and beauty.

Unfortunately, we often see these shrubs in an unthrifty condition, their leaves yellowing and falling, and their growth stunted because the roots are not active.

Soil and general environment is usually the cause of the trouble. These plants require a fairly loose soil such as obtained by adding sufficient peat-moss, sphagnum, water during the summer months, regular feeding with an acid-type fertilizer, and, in most instances, partial shade or sunlight filtered through high trees.

Since so many desirable plants enjoy these same conditions, it is wise to make a special bed when the first plant is obtained, whether it be an azalea or a camellia.

It is then possible to create the necessary soil condition more easily, supply adequate moisture and fertilize the entire bed with the right plant foods.

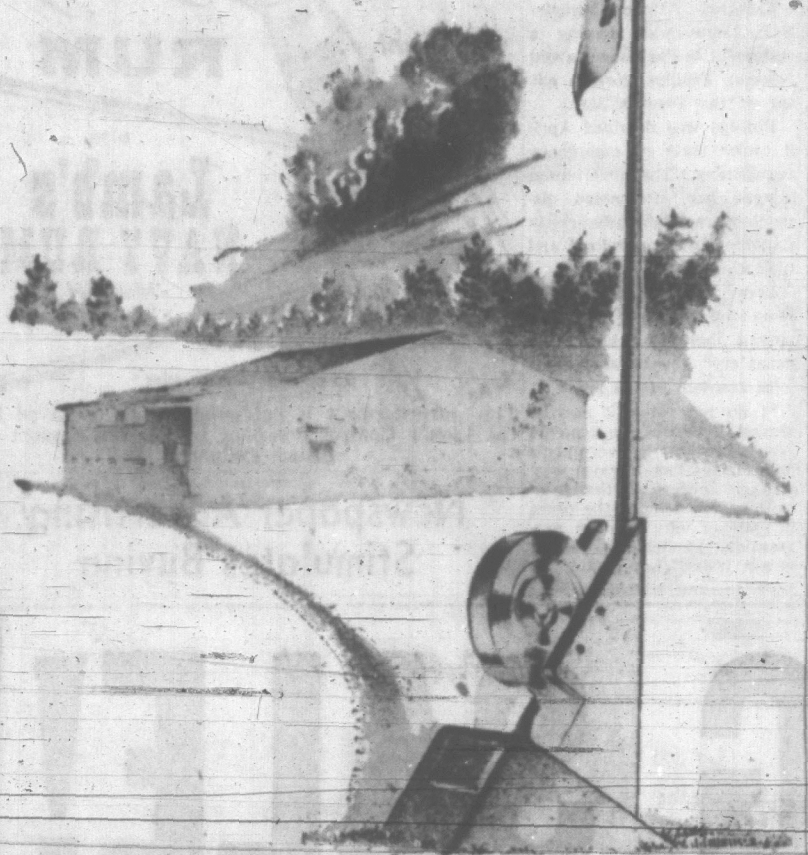

Spot planting, here and there, is never successful. For instance, an azalea and a lilac, side by side, will never thrive.

One hates time while the other needs it for health and flowers. And rhododendrons at ways grow in groups in the wild, never a single plant as so often seen in gardens.

$1.4 Billion Public Works Costs Seen Over 10 Years

NANAIMO (CP)—Attorney-General R. W. Bonner, in his capacity as minister of industrial development, trade, and commerce, predicts a continuing increase in B.C. prosperity during the 1960's.

Addressing Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night, he forecast expenditures over the next decade of $1,000,000,000 for highways in the province, $200,000,000 for new schools, $200,000,000 for hospitals, industrial schools and mental institutions.

At the same time the province would continue to attract private investment at the rate of about $1,200,000,000 a year. Personal income, he said, would continue its climb and in 1969 would equal $2,200 per capita in "real dollars."

HIGHEST IN CANADA

B.C., with an average per capita income in 1959 of $1,777, boasted the highest figure in that category in Canada.

Retail sales which had climbed from $565,000,000 in 1939 to $1,075,000,000 in 1959 would reach $1,400,000,000 in 1969.

"These would be in constant dollars not including the two per cent per annum inflation factor," he said.

Population would increase from the present 1,600,000 to between 2,500,000 and 2,600,000 in 1969.

Mr. Bonner noted that economic developments in B.C. as forecast by the Gordon Commission had turned out to be correct on comparing actual with predicted developments between 1959 and 1960.

Race With Stork Costs Driver $20 Court Fine

(From Duncan Bureau)

Emergencies which affect other people cut no ice with Magistrate A. C. Sutton in Duncan police court.

Donald William Solem, Richmond, explained in court this week that he had been traveling at 75 miles per hour on Trans. Canada Highway because his wife was expecting a baby at the time and he was rushing to Nanaimo to catch a ferry.

"Then you should have started earlier," the magistrate said, fining him $20 for speeding.

"The experience of the last five years has provided a reliable forecast of forecasts for the next 15 years."

FORECASTS CORRECT

"In B.C. we have had the added experience of knowledge that predictions for this province have been realized statistically, and we are surprised to realize how astonishingly accurate forecasts they were."

Most significant index for the next decade is that of the total net value of primary and secondary production. This will increase from the current $2,000,000,000 annually to $3,000,000,000 by 1969.

Manufacturing will develop at the same rate.

Electric power demand will be four times as great as at present. Mining and agriculture will be up 50 per cent each.

The current year will be the third largest investment year in the province's history with $1,290,000,000 investment in B.C.

Chairman Named On Lake Protest

LANGFORD—Cleve Hughes was named Wednesday night as chairman of a Langford Lake residents' committee which will ask the provincial government for assistance in stopping growth of blue-green algae in the lake.

It has been getting worse in the last two years, and last summer made swimming impossible.

Community Chest To Pay Politics?

(Compiled from CP)

VANCOUVER — A Liberal candidate said Wednesday night election campaign funds for all parties should be paid by the government or the community chest.

Frank Kearney, provincial election candidate for Vancouver Burrard, said at a constituency association meeting too much fund-raising is done by surreptitious means.

He said the government or the chest should pay the expenses if private citizens are not willing to support their political parties.

"Public morality has reached a new low when graft and corruption are considered the proper price for progress in democracy," he said.

"Honest citizens must be prepared to provide necessary financial support for political parties either from their own pocket, by grant from the community chest, or by direct government payment."

The provincial Liberal party could be run on the budget allotted to the Boy Scouts by the community chest.

HELPS YOU FEEL BETTER
LOOK BETTER SLEEP BETTER

Every meal we eat is better balanced nutritionally if it includes milk. Children need at the very least a pint of milk a day; adolescents a pint and a half; and adults a pint a day.

Creamed Soups

Heat milk and canned soup in separate pans. Before the milk boils, stir it into the hot soup. You'll get the smoothest, best-tasting soup ever.

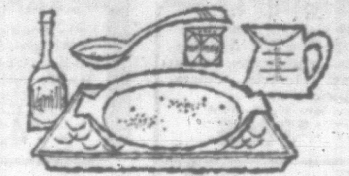

Heating Milk

Milk scorchs easily so if you can't keep an eye on it while it's heating, use a double boiler. Milk tastes better if it doesn't boil.

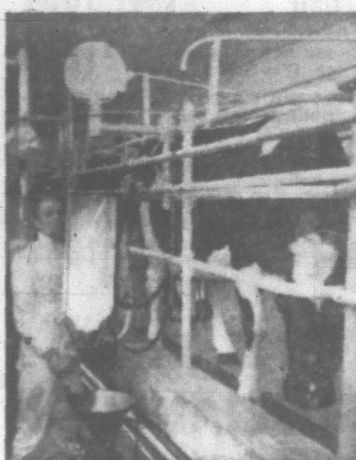

Serving B.C. Milk Puddings

It's the milk in puddings that makes them so good for you, and if you serve fresh, frozen or canned B.C. fruit as garnish to your pudding you'll have a dessert that's doubly good. Try vanilla milk pudding with B.C. peaches, chocolate pudding with B.C. pears, butterscotch with B.C. cherries and lemon with B.C. apricots.

Perfect Custard Every Time

Keep the oven at 300°F. Place the baking pan in a pan of hot water. Add a tablespoon of heavy cream for every cup of milk your recipe calls for. Your custard can't go wrong if you make it this way.

Milk is our most nearly perfect food. Protein of high quality, calcium and riboflavin (vitamin B2) are all supplied by our fresh B.C. milk. Milk packs a wealth of nourishment into every glass... there's no waste... and the cost is low in proportion to food value. Serve B.C. milk to your family every day.

AN IMPORTANT B.C. INDUSTRY

The dairy farmers of British Columbia are independent business men striving to give you the finest dairy products at the lowest possible prices. Dairying contributes over $36,000,000 a year to our economy but the importance of the dairy farmers cannot be measured in dollars alone. Dairying is a most essential industry and our B.C. dairy products are among the best in the world.

SUIT URGED OVER NEWSPAPER AD

It's 'Libel' Cries Alabama

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Attorney General Macdonald Gallion recommended Wednesday that members of the Alabama board of education file a multi-million-dollar libel suit against the New York Times.

He disclosed findings of a study of legal implications of a full-page advertisement, highly critical of Alabama, published in the Times, March 29.

Gallion said his suggestion for a suit against the newspaper was made to Governor John Patterson, chairman of the state school board.

"We have confirmed... that many of the statements were complete lies," he said of the ad which prompted Montgomery's three city commissioners to file suits Tuesday seeking $1,500,000 from The Times.

"Among them was the untruthful and libelous statement, for example, that state authorities padlocked the dining hall of the Negro Alabama State College in an attempt to starve the Negro students into submission."

The advertisement sought to raise money to help pay legal expenses of Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., Negro leader facing trial on charges of falsifying state income tax returns.

It was paid for by "the committee to defend Martin Luther King and the struggle for freedom in the south." Signers included such persons as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Marion Brando, Shelly Winters, Eartha Kitt and Harry Belafonte.

Racial Strife Spreads in South

ATLANTA (AP) — More than 4,000 Negroes and white persons sang Onward Christian Soldiers as they marched out of the auditorium at Fisk University in Nashville, Tenn., because of an anonymous bomb threat.

Police, firemen and ambulances stood by at the Negro college. The orderly evacuation occurred shortly before an address by the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., of Atlanta, a Negro integration leader active in the 11-week-old campaign against segregated lunch counters in the United States South.

No bomb was found and the audience returned.

S.A. DENIES INTERFERENCE WITH PRESS

CAPETOWN (Reuters) — The South African government said today that apart from the three-day detention of a Canadian newspaper man it has not interfered at all with freedom of the press.

External Affairs Minister Eric Louw was making a statement in Parliament about Norman Phillips, foreign editor of the Toronto Star.

Phillips was detained April 9 under state of emergency regulations. The government alleged his intercepted dispatch on racial disturbances in Capetown was prejudiced and inaccurate.

Louw said that as soon as news of Phillips' detention spread there had been "the usual cry" about interference with freedom of the press.

"I do not think it can be denied that this government—as previous governments have done—has always very strongly observed the principle of freedom of the press in spite of very extreme provocation, particularly during recent years," Louw said.

Superman Myth Was Shattered In One Round

Ingemar Johansson, the Swedish boxer who was branded a coward at the Olympic Games and persevered to become heavyweight champion of the world, has turned author to tell the action-packed story behind his climb to the top. This is the fifth of 16 daily installments being carried exclusively in The Daily Times.

By INGEMAR JOHANSSON

Again I felled Eddie Machen, this time with a right uppercut. He was nearly out, but he forced himself up at "nine" and actually stood on his feet.

I thought it was time to stop the match, but the referee gave the sign to continue.

At the top, it isn't enough if a man is crumbling. He must be knocked down.

So the outcome rests finally with the beaten man. If he hasn't got the sense to stay down when he is defeated, except if he tumbles up in a pure delirium, it goes hard with him.

The third knockdown of Machen was bad. But I had to tell him. Bad luck had it that he sat on the rope and didn't fall to the canvas. I punched blow after blow till he slackened and all the stuffing went out of him and the body dropped to the canvas.

He rolled on to the edge of the ring and not even his unbroken spirit could make him get up. They carried him to his corner and he came to just as I went over.

He asked what the situation was. They told him he was beaten and there was nothing more he could do. Then he wept.

It was this one-round knock-out that opened the door to the world title, dispelled the myth of American boxing superiority, and landed me in a contract fight with Machen's manager.

INGEMAR JOHANSSON

I was unbeaten in my 20 professional fights and wanted to position myself for the title. This is how the fight came about:

Pastrano's Style 'Not Suitable'

Our plan was to content ourselves with Willie Pastrano, then third in the rankings, but I wasn't keen on him. I didn't think his style would please the Swedish public or the critics.

Then we decided to try for Zora Foley, No. 2 on the challengers' list. But Foley was otherwise occupied.

He was to box Pete Rademacher, the latest Olympic heavyweight champion, who had become fashionable because of his match with Floyd Patterson.

Floyd knocked Rademacher out in the sixth, and Foley was to knock him out—and quicker—thus winning an indirect "victory" over Patterson.

We couldn't get Foley, didn't want to go down the list. It had to be someone near the top; it had to be a big opponent. And this meant Machen.

He was a big name in the U.S.A., had knocked out most of his opponents, twice beaten Nino Valdes, boxed evenly against Foley, and I thought the task a bit too much for an unknown European champion who wasn't even mentioned in the better circles of official heavyweights.

Besides, I didn't know very much about boxing in the top class. I didn't want to take on a fight I didn't believe I had a chance of winning. I told my associate Edwin Ahlquist: "Let me think about it for a couple of days."

Eventually after thinking about it, I told myself: "He's so high-ranking I've nothing to lose. If I lose honorably it isn't a catastrophe. If I win, I'm on my way to the top."

Machen's Manager Took the Bait

I knew Machen would be a hard nut to crack, but I'm not so easily cracked myself, and he wouldn't beat me by waving the star-spangled banner and his rank at me, I thought.

"Get him here," I said. "Things will work out. Some time you've got to jump in."

Machen's manager, Sid Flaherty, took the bait. Machen was willing to come to Sweden, but wanted a return match in the contract. I refused and told Edwin: "If I beat him in Gothenburg, I will refuse a return bout. If I win the way is open to Patterson and it would be crazy to block it with a contract for a return bout."

This information was sent to the Americans, with a contract which didn't say anything about a return. It came back signed and acknowledged.

This was the start of a contract battle with Flaherty. He had a clear understanding from Edwin and I, and he accepted our demands with his signature.

The Swedish-American Sven Holmberg, who was the Machen-camp's Swedish contact man, and who travelled in their company, had been making cocky statements about Machen's certain victory. One day he came to my camp and watched some sparring, and it was after that visit that Flaherty began to talk of a return bout in America. This talk became more and more stubborn, and Edwin referred him to the contract. In the end all was well.

Ingemar Keeps Word; Title Battle in June

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ingemar Johansson, who has insisted for nine months that he will honor his return-bout commitment with Floyd Patterson, made good his word today when he formally signed for a June defence of his world heavyweight boxing title.

Patterson's hopes for a rematch and a chance to become the only man ever to regain the heavyweight title have rested entirely with Johansson's promises.

There was a return-bout clause in their original contract for last June's scrap in which Ingo won a three-round knockout, but observers generally agreed Johansson easily could have abrogated that in the confusion and legal wrangling which broke out with disclosures of irregularities in promotion of that first fight.

The rematch was to have been held in 90 days, or in late September of last year. But Bill Rosenzohn, who proposed the first fight, lost his promotional licence. At the same time, the New York State Athletic Commission suspended Cus d'Amato, Patterson's manager.

It became clear that there would be no fight in September, but Johansson steadfastly maintained that he would defend first against Floyd, and in no other city than New York.

Today, he proved that he meant what he said.

Richmond One Up In Final

HAMILTON (CP) — Richmond Merchants of Vancouver took a one-point lead in the best-of-five final for the Canadian women's senior basketball title Wednesday night with a close 45-43 win over Hamilton's Quigly Tigerettes.

Merchants now lead the series 2-1 with the fourth game scheduled for tonight.

About 600 fans saw a see-saw affair from start to finish. The British Columbia champions had to survive a last-minute drive by Hamilton to clinch the game.

Zoe Shepherd led the attack for Merchants with a 16-point performance, while teammate Joan Lorenz collected 13 points.

Lorna Desautels, 18, scored 10 points for Hamilton and Margy Deas scored 10.

The lineups:
Vancouver—Shepherd 18, Lorenz 15, Whitford 5, Tooley 4, McDermott 3, Farrell, Mathes, Datto, McGivern, Total—48.

Hamilton—Desautels 13, Hawley 5, Deas 10, MacDonald 5, Spurr 3, Hall 2, Martin, Park, Collins, Ostroma, Total—43.

JIM FINIGAN BACK AGAIN

VANCOUVER (CP) — Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League have reached an agreement with holdout Jim Finigan, who batted .260 in 66 games at third base for the Mounties last year.

General manager Bob Freitas said Finigan is flying out from Washington, D.C., and hopes to reach the west coast in time to join the Mounties today at Tacoma. If not, he'll join the club at Salt Lake City Friday.

GOLF CRITIC ANSWERED

Course So Bad, Sam Set Record

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Edward Benjamin, president of the Starmount Forest Country Club in Greensboro, N.C., described Sam Snead Wednesday "as a mental heavyweight who has developed a contempt for his fellow players."

He said he would be happy if Snead played his golf somewhere other than Greensboro in the future.

Snead won the Greater Greensboro Open last week on the Starmount Forest Club course. He has won it six times previously.

At the award presentation ceremonies, Snead criticized the condition of the course, calling it lousy and added: "I hope it will finally get to Benjamin to do something about his golf course."

Benjamin mentioned in reply the record score of 270 Snead carded this year.

"It seems odd that if the course was in such bad shape that he would break a course record that stood for 22 years," he said.

Junior Tennis Stars Deserve Special Look

MONTREAL — Canada's tennis bosses named the Dominion's Davis Cup team Wednesday, but an equally big story was the officials' announcement of continuing emphasis on junior development.

It could be a development that may, in a few years' time, boost Canada's tennis rating to a new pinnacle.

And two youths who started playing tennis at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club are ranked among the leading young prospects. They are John Fraser and Reidar Getz, the latter now a resident of Vancouver after moving to the Mainland last fall.

Lorne Main was named non-playing captain of Canada's Davis Cup team for the third year in a row. Canada meets the United States, July 15 to 17, on clay, in Quebec City, in the first American Zone tie.

FONTANA PICKED

Top-ranked Bob Fontana, 27-year-old Sherbrooke, Que., star, will head the squad. Also named were Don Fontana, veteran Toronto Davis Cupper, and Val Harit, of Montreal, and lefthander Francois Godbout, of Waterloo, Que.

At the same time Canada's Davis Cup committee outlined plans for adding two or more players to the eventual squad, although the team itself will be limited to four. A junior Davis Cup round-robin tournament will be held in Toronto, June 15 to 18, and the two top players will be added to the squad.

Other tournament results could indicate further additions to the squad, leaving openings for such veteran stars as Henri Rochon, ranked No. 4 in Canada, and Larry Barclay, of Vancouver, who were passed over by the selection committee.

YOUTH PROGRAM

Davis Cup officials emphasized that Canada was continuing its youth program in line with picking a Davis Cup team. So far, 11 players have been invited to participate in the junior tournament. All are 21 and under. Heading the list are Harry Faulquier of Toronto, the Canadian open junior champion, Fraser and Getz.

Main said the two juniors who will be added to the squad will join the four already chosen in Quebec City to practice June 22-25. From there, the squad will leave to participate in two major U.S. clay court tournaments, the Tri-State championships at Cincinnati, June 27-July 4, and the "S. western clay court championships at Milwaukee July 5-10.

Moss said his club would do everything in its power to prevent the game.

Meanwhile, in Dallas, Tex., general manager Tex Schramm of the Cowboys said the controversy was news to him.

"I don't see how the game possibly could infringe on anyone's rights, though. Boy, it's getting so certain people own certain towns in sport. Two Canadian clubs played in Philadelphia last year and the NFL didn't squawk."

Winner of the series will meet Edmonton Oil Kings in the Dominion junior final, a playoff that annually wraps up hockey for another season.

IT WATHN'T HITH FAULT WITHLE DIDN'T THOUND

COPENHAGEN (AP) — A Danish soccer club is up in arms because a referee searched for his lost false teeth during a league match—and missed a goal.

Referee Henning Erikstrup lost his teeth just as he was about to blow the final whistle, and spent several costly minutes recovering them. In the meantime, the Ebeltøft team scored a goal to tie Noerager, 4-4.

Erikstrup promptly blew his whistle, cancelled the goal, and awarded a 4-3 victory to Noerager.

Ebeltøft protested that the match had not ended formally when they scored the fourth goal. Erikstrup admits this, but claims extraordinary circumstances.

"Why, I simply had to get my teeth back. Otherwise, some player might have put his big boot on them and crushed them," he said.

Royals Surprise In Eastern Final

(From CP Reports)

Montreal Royals—who weren't supposed to win—and Chatham Maroons—who were—scored tie-clinching victories in Eastern Canada Wednesday as Canada's hockey season moved another step closer to curtain-dropping time.

And Brockville Canadiens, getting four goals from captain Bobby Broseau, kept their hopes alive of winning the Eastern Canada junior championship by thumping St. Catharines Teepees 10-5.

At Chatham, the favored Maroons swamped Hull Leclercques 19-0 to win the Eastern Canada Senior "A" crown and a berth in the Allan Cup final against Trail Smoke Eaters.

STARTS MONDAY

Chatham took the best-of-five series 3-1 and will open against the Smoke Eaters in Trail Monday.

Gary Sharp and Billy Forhan, a one-time Victoria Cougars star, each scored four goals, with Jim Connelly adding three in the rout.

Royals turned back Sudbury Wolves 4-3 in the seventh and deciding game of their Eastern Professional Hockey League final to become the first winners of the Tom Foley Memorial Trophy.

Royals capped a season of comebacks by taking the last two games of the series to score an upset win over the league champion Sudbury team.

Royals had heart and new-found skating stamina as they checked Sudbury's younger players at every turn before an unbelieving crowd of 6,153 at Sudbury.

Billy Sutherland, Kelly Burnett, Gary Mork and Reg Grig were Montreal scorers while Jimmy Moore, John Sleaver and Real Chevrefils fired the Sudbury markers.

Teepees lead the best-of-seven junior series 3-2. Next game is Friday in Toronto and a seventh, if necessary, will be at the Montreal Forum Saturday.

Winner of the series will meet Edmonton Oil Kings in the Dominion junior final, a playoff that annually wraps up hockey for another season.

STORM KILLS THOUSANDS OF BIRDS

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP)—Uncounted thousands of dead migratory birds were washed up Wednesday on the south shore of Lake Michigan, disclosing what an amateur ornithologist called "a natural disaster."

Simo Segal, member of the South Bend Audubon Society, said the migrating birds evidently were caught over the lake in a violent wind and hail storm Saturday night.

Segal said he counted 240 dead birds in a one-eighth mile walk on Porter Beach. He identified 24 species, including three Henslow sparrows which are rare in this area.

'TO GET ELECTION CHANCE IN DUE TIME'

'Who's He?,' Says Premier, Of Challenge by George

Premier Bennett declined Wednesday to accept a challenge from Progressive Conservative candidate James A. A. George that he should call an early by-election in Oak Bay to fill the vacant seat created by the death of P. A. Gibbs last March.

"Who is Mr. George?" asked the Premier. "I have never heard of him."

When reminded that Mr. George is the Conservative candidate for Oak Bay—the only Oak Bay candidate to be nominated so far—the Premier replied:

"Well, he will have his chance in due time. It shows what a plight the old Conservative and Liberal parties are in when they pin so much hope on a by-election."

Mr. George, in his challenge to the Premier on Wednesday, said:

"If he doesn't call a by-election it will be a clear indication he is afraid to test public opinion in Oak Bay."

To which Mr. Bennett replied:

"I live in Oak Bay. The people there will have every opportunity to elect their representative in due course."

SOUNDING BOARD

In an exclusive Times interview, Mr. George suggested Oak Bay should be a "sounding board" for public opinion of the British Columbia government's policies—particularly its backing of the Wenner-Gren development in northern British Columbia.

"If the people of Oak Bay elect a Social Credit candidate it will be a vote of approval," Mr. George said. "If Social Credit is defeated in Oak Bay it will be a clear sign that the people are dissatisfied with this government—and I am convinced they are."

TRAFFIC FINES

Kenneth Oliver, 2907 Douglas, $50 and $5.39 for operating overweight truck.

William Edward Webb, Craigflower Auto Court, $10 and $3 costs for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Howard Bowles, 109 Kingham, $15 and $3 costs for speeding over 40.

PM Seeks Trade On Mexico Visit

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker left Ottawa by plane today for a two-day state visit to Mexico, expected to include talks on trade and international relations with President Lopez Mateos.

The plane, also carrying Mrs. Diefenbaker and Mexican Ambassador Rafael de la Colina, was scheduled to land at New Orleans for refueling and arrive at Mexico City at 5 p.m. The party will return to Ottawa Sunday night.

Mr. Diefenbaker's trip follows the two-day state visit paid to Canada last October by the Mexican president. At that time, Mr. Lopez Mateos said he looked forward to expanded trade between the two countries.

Officials have said Canada and Mexico have no problems to be ironed out. The talks will be aimed partly at reaffirming friendship.

Mr. Diefenbaker is the first Canadian prime minister to visit Mexico—but this is his second trip there. He and Mrs. Diefenbaker honeymooned at Acapulco in December, 1953.

Four speeches by the Canadian prime minister are included in the Mexican schedule.

First of these will be made Friday morning at the University of Mexico, following a meeting with Foreign Minister Tello. Second will be to the National Bar Association of Mexico in the afternoon, when Mr. Diefenbaker will be presented with an honorary membership.

A dinner at the president's home Friday night will be followed by another speech by the prime minister and a concert by the National Symphony Orchestra.

On Saturday, the Diefenbakers will go sight-seeing in Mexico City, with a visit to the rodeo at Rancho de Charros. Mr. Diefenbaker will give a luncheon—and another speech—at the residence of Canadian Ambassador W. A. Irwin, followed in late afternoon by a press conference. The day will end with a reception given by Mr. Irwin at the Del Prado Hotel.

'Spies' in Industry Claims Union Head

MONTREAL (CP)—A steelworkers' union leader said Wednesday industrial "spies" operating with code-names and cloak-and-dagger secrecy are working among union members in the Elliot Lake, Ont., mining area.

Larry Sefton, director of the United Steelworkers of America (CLC) said he was revealing the information on spying because the time has come for the labor movement "to question the ethics of employment."

Trapeze Artist Dies

NEW YORK (UPI)—Trapeze artist and ballet dancer Eame Davis, 54, died of a heart attack Wednesday in a Central Park apartment cluttered with scrapbooks and mementos of her world-wide career.

ers resorting to industrial spies."

It was contained in his report to the USWA national policy conference today, but released to the press in advance of delivery.

Mr. Sefton is director of district 6—an area from Ontario to British Columbia covering 336 local unions and 73,000 employees.

He said worker-agents are recruited through the National Employment Service and sent to a mine to work. They are paid a small fee in addition to their regular mine wage.

"The agent is given a code number with which he signs his monthly or special reports to the agency," Mr. Sefton said.

"He is asked to report on proceedings of union meetings and any group conversations on the job."

CITY WOMAN 101 SATURDAY

Mrs. Susan Moore, a patient at Manor Private Hospital, will be aged 101 Saturday.

Born in Cornwall, England, she came to Canada in 1911 at the age of 52 and married Thomas Moore, a Vancouver engineer, a few years later.

Mrs. Moore worked as a housekeeper until aged 65 when she retired to Victoria. This year as last she will treat her fellow patients—she will buy them cream puffs.

'CIVIL SERVANTS UNITE'

Victorians Spark Bargaining Brief

A brief urging concerted action by federal and provincial civil servants across the country to win bargaining rights has been sent out by the Victoria branch of the Civil Service Federation of Canada.

It urges that duplication in Canada of the Whiteley Councils established in Britain, essentially a system in which joint committees of civil servants and government representatives meet to negotiate wages and working contracts.

The Victoria group is awaiting reaction to its proposal.

Gordon Campbell, president of the CSFC district council here, said he hopes the national headquarters of the association will support the brief.

TIME TO MAKE CASE

"We feel this is one of the times to stand together and make a real case of our claim," he said. "There are 150,000 or more federal civil servants and 5,000 to 10,000 provincial civil servants in each province."

Refusal of the governments to grant bargaining rights to their employees is a "ghost" of the divine right of kings concept, Mr. Campbell said. Only the Saskatchewan government has granted bargaining rights to civil servants.

"Granting of bargaining rights is the only way to guarantee the political impartiality of the civil service," Mr. Campbell said. "The civil service must not be involved in political action of any sort."

He said that no strike or slow down action is advocated in the brief.

CANDY BARS GET BIGGER

TORONTO (CP) — Chocolate bars are getting bigger in Canada this year with no increase in price.

One manufacturer, William Neilson Ltd., has already increased the size of bars and they are on sale across the country.

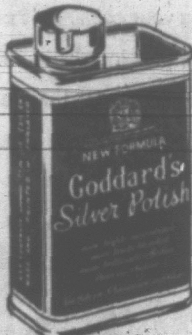

At least one other manufacturer, Rowntree Company Ltd., has plans for increasing the size of its bars.

The reason behind the increase is the reduced price of cocoa and sugar.

$50,000 Gift For World Relief

"The high, gallant spirit of wartime is needed in peacetime," Premier Bennett said Wednesday as he announced a $50,000 contribution by the people of British Columbia towards relief of starvation in under-privileged countries.

The Premier said an order-in-council authorizing the expenditure of $50,000 from consolidated revenue is being drafted for "submission" to the cabinet this week.

"We must enlarge our horizons," Mr. Bennett said. "The world is shrinking. Oceans today are mere highways and the man halfway round the world is as much our brother as the man across the street."

He said the $50,000 and all succeeding amounts up to a total of $1,000,000 will be administered by the Premier's Committee for World Relief, which is chaired by Health Minister Eric Martin.

VOLUNTARY DONATIONS

The Premier said he hoped the initial grant will be augmented by voluntary donations which the government will match on a dollar-for-dollar basis up to $1,000,000.

He added that the government wanted to have the grant authorized during the last session of the Legislature, but the federal government's "failure" to reply to a request for a dominion-provincial conference to implement the plan had made payment by warrant necessary.

"Preliminary investigations have indicated that proceeds from the fund may best be directed to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) for maximum effect."

WOULD CLOSE CAMP

The premier said his government supports efforts of Vancouver citizens' committee which is trying to close down a European refugee camp.

He was confident that the government-sponsored fund, along with the work of the Vancouver committee, will "meet British Columbia's moral obligation to the under-privileged peoples of the world in a manner appropriate to our wealth and stability."

The premier said he was pleased to have been asked to serve as an honorary patron of the Vancouver organization and welcomed without qualification support of its efforts.

SABBATICAL LEAVES SOUGHT BY TEACHERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Teachers Federation has turned down a proposal by the Salmon Arm Teachers Association that all Grade 12 students take an exam in the fundamentals of arithmetic and spelling before graduation. The Salmon Arm group suggested a minimum of 90 per cent in arithmetic and 95 per cent in spelling.

In other business:

1. The federation decided to ask the department of education to amend the Schools Act to provide sabbatical leave with pay for teachers and to pay grants to school boards for this purpose. Sabbatical leave has been adopted in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario.

2. Teachers will ask for some say in approving above-scale pay to their colleagues instead of leaving sole authority in the hands of school boards as at present.

3. The federation will urge the department of education to authorize employment to married women teachers in part-time positions on regular salary.

'LET PARENTS TEACH MANNERS'

More Exercise, Less Help With Dating for Students

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia high school students are going to learn less about manners and get more exercise.

The provincial department of education is sending directives to school boards ordering a new course which will put more emphasis on physical education and less on how to behave on dates, the problems of smoking and drinking, and so on.

The new course, to be named health, physical education and guidance, will start in September. It will devote up to four periods a week to games and physical education and one to guidance on social matters.

The present personal development course provides for two periods of physical activity and three on personal problems each week.

Personal development also covers such matters as conduct, manners, social responsibility and dieting.

A Vancouver school board official said the effect of the change will be to put responsibility for teaching children these topics back in the hands of the parents.

The money will be spent on a one and one-quarter-mile section of the coastal drive from the Oak Bay boundary to Hibben's Close.

Premier Blocking Duty-Free Stores

The B.C. government will deny sales tax licences to bonded warehouses operating near the United States-Canadian border, Premier Bennett said Wednesday.

Ghana Votes For Republic

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters)—Accra and northern Ghana voted heavily in favor of Ghana becoming a republic with Kwame Nkrumah, now prime minister, as its president, unofficial results showed Wednesday night.

With voting complete in the first part of the plebiscite, the five constituencies of Accra and eight northern region constituencies voted as follows:

Nkrumah for president: 56,339
Joseph Danquah for president: 19,696

In favor of republic: 55,989.
Against republic: 20,365.

Joseph Danquah is leader of the opposition United party.

The second stage of the plebiscite, involving the Ashanti central and volta eastern regions, takes place Saturday.

U.S. Rail Dispute Turned Over to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strike-threatening wage war between U.S. railroads and 11 unions was dropped in President Eisenhower's lap Wednesday.

The action by the national mediation board almost certainly means that a strike of 650,000 non-operating rail workers will be put off at least for 60 days. The next step is for Eisenhower to appoint an emergency board to consider the dispute.

"The government is strongly opposed to such businesses," he said. "We feel they would undermine the economy of the province."

"The stores would sell duty-free merchandise to tourists and this could mean that some specialty stores in Vancouver and Victoria would go bankrupt."

The premier said he would strongly urge the municipalities to reject trade licence applications from firms proposing to operate near the border.

Victoria business men have asked the federal government to plug a loophole in the Tariff Customs Act which would permit these duty-free shops.

Mr. Bennett said the merchandise would be free of duty and excise taxes and tourists could accumulate considerable savings by purchasing souvenirs and antiques from such firms.

"It is unfair merchandising. This government is opposed to special privileges and discrimination. We believe in free enterprise and fair enterprise with equal opportunity for everyone."

Canada Gives Citizenship To 71,280

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada granted citizenship certificates to 71,280 persons in 1959, with Germans, Italians and Netherlands accounting for 30 per cent of the total. Thirteen per cent of the new citizens gave a Commonwealth country as former nationality.

The overall figure reported today by the bureau of statistics was down 16 per cent from the 1958 citizenship total of 84,183.

The 1959 figures show that 13,387—almost 19 per cent—formerly were Germans and 16 per cent, or 11,484, Italians. Another 10,365—almost 15 per cent—were former Netherlands subjects and 9,571 were of Commonwealth origin.

Poles becoming citizens numbered 4,678, Russians 3,215, Estonians, Latvians and Lithuanians 2,497, Chinese 1,318 and Austrians 2,015.

BENNETT SAYS OTTAWA OWES US $13 MILLION

The Diefenbaker government in Ottawa owes British Columbia at least $13,000,000 in construction costs on the northern extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, Premier Bennett said Wednesday.

"The federal government owes less for British Columbia than for any other province," the premier said.

He noted that Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi, on his return from Ottawa Tuesday, had said "they treated me royally but they gave us nothing—just nothing."

"That is the old red carpet treatment," said the premier. "The federal government tries to dodge its responsibilities that way."

IN ANY DISCUSSION ABOUT DOG FOOD, nourishment is the key word. And so many dog owners have told me that all their dog-feeding problems are solved by DR. BALLARD'S CHAMPION DOG FOOD. You see, actual analysis has proven that Dr. Ballard's gives your dog up to 8% more nourishment than many of the so-called "bargain" brands selling at only a few cents less. A BARGAIN IS A BARGAIN... only when you have the cash to take advantage of it. That's why I urge my friends to open "special purpose" accounts at their neighbourhood branch of the BANK-OF-MONTREAL. Be sure to make regular deposits and you'll be delighted as you watch your savings grow. Then when some attractive bargain presents itself, you're there with the ready cash to take advantage of it. Wonderful "bargains" are always turning up, and money in the bank can make the difference between wishing and having. So why not open your own "special purpose" account at your neighbourhood B of M today?

HAS THIS EVER HAPPENED TO YOU? A letter from a Halifax lady says that when she was peering a room she stooped to pick up a roll of paper, and was stricken by a sharp pain in the back, so severe that she couldn't stand up. She goes on to say: "I had heard of TEMPLETON'S T-R-C's through friends and so decided to try them. I am thankful to say that they gave me complete relief from pain." Since then, she says, she takes T-R-C's for relief any time she gets a back-ache or lumbago. Do try them yourself if you suffer from arthritic, neuritic, sciatic or rheumatic pain... and tell your friends about long-famous, reliable T-R-C's.

CAPITAL CITY HONORS PAID TOP B.C. SCOUTS, GUIDES

234 Cheerful Youngsters Defy Weather

Sturdy Queen's Scouts, 172 of them, dried out around a crackling camp fire in Kwakiutl House, Thunderbird Park, this morning while rain and hail rattled on the roof overhead.

From cities and towns, from mountains, valleys and farmlands—from every corner of this far-flung province—the Scouts and 62 Girl Guides had come to Victoria for the honor of receiving their Queen's Scout certificates from Lieut. Governor Frank Ross at Government House, the girls to get their Golden Cords.

And Victoria welcomed them with rain, rain and more rain.

But it takes more than bad weather to shake the patience and courtesy of a Queen's Scout. While Victorians mumbled apologies, the well-mannered lads replied with:

"Oh, it isn't so bad, Sir."

This afternoon the Scouts and Guides attended an annual investiture at Government House where Mr. Ross formally presented certificates to the Scouts and Gold Cords to the Girl Guides.

Both are the highest service awards in Scouting and Guiding and months of hard work and study are required to qualify for them.

Before the investiture Scouts and Guides were entertained to lunch in the ballroom at Government House by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross. It was the first Scout reception to be held in new Government House and the last time Mr. Ross will officiate as he is retiring at the end of this year.

At the head table were George Hayashi from Rutland; Bernard Theker, Valemount; Robert Norton, Stewart; Ann Lythgoe, Campbell River; Elaine Weston, Kitimat; Jo Hutchinson, Rossland; and Arlene Kermod from Vernon.

The blessing was asked by Queen's Scout Robert Norton.

Earlier the scouts tramped through the rain to Thunderbird Park, for a welcome by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant on behalf of the B.C. government.

They then inspected Mungo Martin's totem-carving workshop, toured the Legislative Buildings and the Provincial Museum and went for a swim in the Crystal Garden.

Around the camp fire in Kwakiutl House (the fire was provided by Mungo Martin) the mainland scouts chattered enthusiastically of their trip to Esquimalt Wednesday aboard the RCN ships HMCS Fraser and HMCS Beacon Hill.

"The scouts explored the ships from stern to stern," said Provincial Field Commissioner Dennis Flawith. "They had a grand time."

The Scouts displayed a polite interest in the buildings but reserved most of their enthusiasm for the museum. "I could spend a whole morning here," said Cliff Ramsey, 17, of New Westminster. "This is a swell place."

As they passed the office of Attorney-General Robert Bonner, one of the Scouts said: "That's the man who makes the traffic laws."

Tonight at the Empress Hotel the visitors will be entertained to dinner by the B.C. Boy Scouts' council. Guest speaker will be Bruce Hutchinson, editor of The Victoria Times.

Scouts and Guides will leave Victoria at 7.30 a.m. Friday.

City Club Taxation Plea Opens

An appeal against exemption of the Pacific Club from city business tax opened in Supreme Court chambers today with legal manoeuvring.

Purpose was to settle the issue on questions of procedure but Mr. Justice Ruttan reserved decision on the technical points and ordered lawyers to give their arguments on the merits of the case.

The appeal was launched by the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Restaurant Association, in the name of its honorary secretary Mrs. Dulcinea Guelpa, after a four-alderman court of revision took the club off the business tax roll last month.

NO JURISDICTION

Alan Bigelow, Pacific Club lawyer, agreed with a contention by Mrs. Guelpa's lawyer, Rodney Taylor, that the court of revision had no jurisdiction to decide assessability of the club.

"It can only rule on whether the assessment is too high or too low," said Mr. Taylor.

But Mr. Bigelow countered that Mrs. Guelpa had no right to launch an appeal so the action should be dismissed anyway.

Mr. Taylor said under the Municipal Act "any person" had the right to make an appeal. Even if Mrs. Guelpa did not have a right to appeal, the judge knew about the court of revision's lack of jurisdiction so he should wipe out its decision anyway.

Judge Ruttan reserved decision on this point and also on an application by Mr. Bigelow for an adjournment of the hearing after he was told that Friday is the deadline for a decision under the Municipal Act.

Noting that an adjournment would defeat the appeal, Judge Ruttan said "it's just an impossible situation to put a strait jacket like that on the court."

LISTEN TO THIS "SOME NEWBORN INFANTS ARE HIGHLY INFECTIOUS TO OTHERS AND BECAUSE THEY ARE LITERALLY SURROUNDED BY CLOUDS OF BACTERIA, THEY ARE CALLED 'CLOUD BABIES'."

A 17-year-old Victoria boy pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday to being a minor in possession of liquor and was fined $25 and $5.50 costs.

Police said the boy, whose name was withheld because of his age, had two bottles of brandy and two bottles of gin when he was stopped in a car with five companions.

... HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Are there any versatile dancers, singers and comedians left in Victoria?

If there are not, Jerry Gosley's Summer Smiles Show may cease to exist, for Jerry is having difficulty finding the necessary talent to keep up this midsummer attraction.

"Already," he says, "we are getting inquiries from as far afield as California. I want to save the show, but to do so I must have enough entertainers of professional standard to help me."

Where is that Victoria talent?

"An average neighborhood," says pundit R. J. Hillyer of Foul Bay Road, "is one where the folks on both sides of the fence are sure their kids would be better behaved if they didn't play with the kids next door."

Or didn't play at all!

Retiring from the Bank of Montreal in Victoria this month after 45 years' service is old soldier Eric Henderson of 815 Linden Avenue.

Eric was actually born over the Bank of Montreal's premises at Vernon where his father was branch manager. He served overseas in the First and Second World Wars and after his retirement plans to devote more time to the study of regimental histories.

Who remembers Billy Hunter?

A Times reader advertised recently for a pre-war copy of the Holiday Annual which used to contain the unlikely adventures of Hunter and his unlikely classmates at an English public (private) school.

"I didn't get any replies," he writes.

Does anyone remember Hunter?

I hear that Godfrey White, who used to be a bell-ringer at Christ Church Cathedral, is now flying a plane on Canadian Pacific Airlines route between Montreal and Rome and is enjoying his weekly visits to the ancient capital.

His mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hewitt White, lives at 86 Kingham Place and has just been elected to her 15th year as secretary of the Dickens Fellowship.

CITY TO HAVE NEW MUSEUM, CHANT STATES

A definite assurance that the B.C. government will build a new provincial museum on the civil service parking lot, alongside the Empress Hotel, was given today by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant, in an official welcome to 172 Queen's Scouts assembled in Kwakiutl House, Thunderbird Park.

Car Fans View Latest Models At Arena Show

Auto buffs and prospective buyers for the first time in many years saw all current automobile models in one place—at the Springtime Showcase for new cars which opened Wednesday at Memorial Arena.

The show will continue today, Friday and Saturday from 2 to 10 p.m. under sponsorship of the Victoria Automobile Dealers' Association.

Stars of the show were the most luxurious and expensive models displayed by the Big Three, but everything is on view down to the smallest of the foreign cars.

More than 40 cars and station wagons are on the Arena floor, while trucks are displayed outside.

Entertainment is provided by a five-piece orchestra, organist Aletha Stelek, the Sytte Sisters and master of ceremonies Owen Hester. There are three stage shows daily, and pensioners, student nurses and children accompanied by adults are admitted free.

Salk Vaccine Saved 90 Per Cent in B.C.

Salk anti-polio vaccine used in B.C. during 1959 was more than 90 per cent effective, Health Minister Eric Martin announced today.

Nine out of 10 vaccinated persons received complete protection against poliomyelitis. Mr. Martin disclosed facts in a report based on a six-month study into the serious B.C. polio outbreak of 1959.

Of last year's 132 cases, 79 per cent occurred amongst persons who had received no vaccine or an incomplete series of three injections.

Twenty-eight of the cases had been fully vaccinated and of these four died; 18 had been partially vaccinated and three died. Of the 86 cases with no vaccination, seven died.

The survey dealt only with paralytic types of polio, based on the six to 18-year-old age group, the group most heavily affected by the disease.

LOW INCIDENCE

In this group, the number contracting polio was 46.5 per 100,000 persons amongst the unvaccinated, but only 4.2 on the same ratio amongst vaccinated persons.

The high outbreak of polio in 1959 offered the first real opportunity to assess Salk vaccine effectiveness in B.C., Mr. Martin said.

Most unusual feature of the outbreak was its distribution throughout the province. It began and reached its greatest peak in B.C.'s central-interior area where 51 persons were attacked.

On the other hand, metropolitan areas of Greater Victoria and Vancouver had only 14 cases.

"Reason for this can not be definitely established," the report said.

Most logical reason given was that persons in these areas had built up a natural immunity due to earlier contacts with the disease.

RARE OVER 40

Most cases of the disease occurred during 1959 in the under-nine-year age group—54.5 per cent.

Polio, the report stated, was still "relatively" rare in the over-40 group—5 per cent of 1959's cases falling in this classification.

But chances of death in this age bracket were high—four of the 15 cases aged over 35 were show.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Meals for Family Picnics Stay Fresh in These Bags

By PENNY SAVER

If you have a family that love to picnic, one of the most useful items to invest in is a well-insulated plastic bag. Whether you're off on a motoring trip or spending a day cruising in the family boat, bags will keep your food fresh. Cool drinks will stay cool as long as eight hours, while hot ones keep original warmth for as long as six hours.

Picnic bags I saw this week are really roomy, being about 17 inches long and standing about 11 inches high. These have strong zippered closings and a generous layer of fibreglass between outer and inner plastic of bags provides adequate insulation.

One particularly attractive bag in sand and white gives effect of tweed. Others are in either red and white stripes or black and white stripes. Still another design has gay-colored balls as decor. Bags would also be useful for carrying frozen foods home on weekly shopping trips. All are priced at $2.98 each.

How often has appearance of children's running shoes been spoiled by broken eyelets or have you wished that you had something to repair a broken belt or binder? If you've ever had this problem to contend with, it would be worth your while to invest in one of the eyelet kits I've seen this week.

Kits consist of a steel plier type tool and 300 eyelets in various shades. Tool punches and sets eyelets in one easy operation. Kit can be bought for $2.98.

Have you ever wished that the family toaster could make more than two pieces of toast—especially at breakfast time? I know I have! Shopping this week I was surprised to discover that four-slice toasters can be bought within same price range as conventional two-slice ones. Ones I saw were selling for $24.95. For large families these would be ideal. Certainly worth thinking about next time you're in the market for a new toaster.

For information on any of these items give Penny a ring at EV 23131.

DEAR ABBY

Sure, It Can Be Recorded

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We got into an argument in our English class. Our teacher said that if a plane crashed in the desert and no living being heard it, it didn't make a sound.

Two or three of us argued about it. I believe that if a stick of dynamite goes off, or if there is an explosion of any kind, whether anybody hears it or not, it still makes a sound. Am I right or is my teacher right? — DICK

DEAR DICK: A "sound" is a physical change in the atmosphere, induced in many ways, and conforms to certain known laws of physics. It CAN be recorded and proved, whether or not anyone is around to hear it.

DEAR ABBY: I think my sister-in-law is trying to set a world's record. She is 27 years old and has ten children! Believe it or not, she hasn't been out of a maternity dress since she married my brother ten years ago. He is a nice guy, but he doesn't have a mind of his own.

The big problem is this: Whenever anyone in the family tries to tell her in a nice way that she has enough children, she gets mad and tells them to mind their own business.

They farm and don't need financial help, but the size of their family is the talk of the county. They act like it's something to be proud of. I think they are a disgrace. I'd like your opinion. — SISTER-IN-LAW

DEAR SISTER-IN-LAW: The size of the family is the business of the Mamma and Papa. If they are able to feed, clothe and educate all the children they have invited into the world, it's nobody's business but theirs. Now, don't you have a problem of your own?

CONFIDENTIAL TO "DISTURBED WITH DAD": Your father means well—but he is making a serious mistake by asking his friends in high places to recommend you for a college that is probably too difficult for you. If you can't get in on your own merits, how long does he think you will stay there?

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Every Teen-Ager Wants to Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this paper.

Plant Life Presented in Words and Pictures

Plants that seek out exact environment which is most suitable for their own growth were described by Prof. Lewis J. Clark, of Victoria University, at a meeting Wednesday evening of the University Women's Club of Victoria. Prof. Clark illustrated his talk with expert color photography. The speaker described plant life along the coastal areas; in the wooded areas, "where very little sunlight filters through the large trees"; in the desert, "where an astonishing variety of juniper, sage and cacti grow in hot, dry temperatures" and in the mountainous regions of the Forbidden Plateau, "where as many as 60 different species of alpine growth can be found". Prof. Clark stressed importance of maintaining "green areas" such as Thetis Park, for preservation of native flora. "The policy of cut and run is suicidal," he said. "There should be thought given to the future."

Informed Women in Politics Vital

A good Liberal women's organization consists of well-informed members, said Mrs. Douglas Blair, Ottawa, executive director, National Liberal Women's Federation in a talk Wednesday to Victoria Liberal Women's Forum and Lady Laurier Club of Oak Bay in Victoria Liberal Headquarters. "It is in the interest of the association, party and the community that women study articles, leaflets, and government material dealing with running of the country and in particular of their party in that work," Mrs. Blair stressed. Dynamic member of staff of 15 at national headquarters, Mrs. Blair is at present on a speaking tour of western Canadian provinces. "My one special interest is that of assuring Liberal women that they are not considered 'bell pushers'! Women can fill any position offered them in politics, they have proven that. There is just no limit to their capacity."

Credit Women's Breakfast Honors Their 'Big Chiefs'

Programs in the shape of Indian teepees, Indian Chief plaques as favors and teepee decorations on the head table, highlighted theme "Big Chief" in which members of Victoria Credit Women's Breakfast Club honored their "Bosses" at annual gathering in the Colonial Inn this morning. President Mrs. Bessie Ward, was chairman and introduced head table guests as follows: Her boss, Mrs. Bertha Wilson; Mrs. Joy Kenyon, Mrs. Florence Reid and her boss, J. MacBride; Mrs. Evelyn Ward and her boss, Don Robinson; Mrs. Kay Fleming; Mrs. Avis Walton, guest speaker; Miss Jessie Duff and her boss, Leo Evenden; Miss Frances MacDonald and her boss, Jack Anderson; Mrs. Betty Young and her boss, Ted Porter; Mrs. Anne McWilliams and her boss, M. Wright.

Toast to bosses was proposed by Miss Duff and response given by Mr. Robinson, president of the Credit-Grants Association. Mrs. Selva Brooks introduced Mrs. Walton, who gave an outline of the Icebreakers' Club for new residents which she had organized. "God new residents are worth cultivating," she claimed. "If they feel at home, if they like us and settle into their surroundings, each one is worth much more than a tourist who only spends a few hours in the city." Icebreakers' Club assists new residents to find friends and to enjoy a social environment. Speaker was thanked by Miss Florence McDougall.

and amount of work that can be taken on by women in election time. "There have even been cases in our party where women have been excellent campaign managers for candidates," she said. Another facet of women work in politics is in placing women in parliament, Mrs. Blair pointed out. "After all, over 50 per cent of the country's vote is female. Then why can't more women run in their constituencies?" She listed duties that Liberal women can make themselves responsible for, including political education in the home; loyalty to her association; volunteering her aid when needed at election time; talking and keeping alive her party's aims and policies and creating an interest in the party among her friends.

Mrs. Blair was introduced by Mrs. H. MacKenzie, who also presided. Mrs. G. W. Kiseick, liaison officer for Liberal women's organization in British Columbia, accompanied Mrs. Blair from Vancouver. Tea was served following meeting.

Western RED CEDAR Bevel SIDING

"Keystone" clear kiln dried siding is the finest available—a quality material for all applications where perfection is required.

With its "grow-in" workability, weather resistance and lasting good looks, "Keystone" clear Western Red Cedar Siding has long been recognized as the standard of quality home construction.

It has a distinctive "shadow line" which enhances any architectural style in any setting, and is used to create a variety of interesting decorative effects on indoor surfaces as well as exterior.

WHAT IS FOREST SIDING?

Forest Siding is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs—sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, grain, etc.

APPEARANCE?

For homes and buildings where a distinctive and pleasing appearance is desired, enhanced by heavy shadow lines, Forest Siding is the answer. It is a new type of siding obtained from specially selected cedar logs—sawn to show the beauty and character of knots, grain, etc.

WHAT ARE ITS QUALITIES?

"FOREST" siding, with its substantial thickness and greater wood volume, adds to the structural STRENGTH and solidity of the building.

The design of "FOREST" siding ensures a tight weather seal at the lap joints, together with its thickness and finish-to-base principle, makes excellent material from the INSULATION standpoint.

"FOREST" siding represents an economy to home builders. Costing less than most other types of siding, the lap design ensures easy fitting and speedy application at less labor cost.

HOW IS IT APPLIED?

As easily and quickly as common siding. Each piece of "FOREST" siding fits snugly on the one below and requires only one nailing cut.

HOW CAN IT BE FINISHED?

If a natural finish is desired, use equal proportions of raw linseed oil and any well-known brand of waterproof sealer. This not only protects the wood surface, but also brings out the natural beauty of the knots and grain. If a colored finish is desired, "FOREST" siding can easily be painted. It is recommended that a sharp instrument be used to score the finished product underneath the nail where it will not show in stop formation of a vapor barrier.

DAY STRIKE
NOT PLANNED
BY POSTMEN

OTTAWA (CP) — Jack Roberts, general secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Postal Employees Association, said Wednesday the group has no present plans to call a 24-hour work stoppage in its campaign for pay increases.
He said remarks made to a reporter here Tuesday by association president Dan Cross of Kingston, Ont., were misinterpreted. Mr. Cross was said to have given a strong hint that postmen may go through with a 24-hour stoppage if the government doesn't raise postmen's salaries within the next four months.

City Firm
Wins Airport
Jetty Job

A Victoria company has been awarded a $79,283 federal works department contract for repairs to Patricia Bay Jetty.

Defense Minister George Pearkes announced today at Ottawa that Patricia Bay Driving Co. Ltd. underbid two other contractors for the job.

A spokesman for the company said two crews of 12 to 14 men would begin work on the jetty almost immediately. The work is scheduled for completion in eight months.

The company will rebuild the superstructure of the jetty, used for mooring air-sea rescue vessels and for loading and unloading supplies for the RCN and RCAF.

The superstructure will be constructed of cross-laid caps and strings with an untreated timber plank deck over existing piles. District engineer A. W. Walkey of Vancouver will supervise the work.

Affiliation with the interdenominational Religion-Labor Foundation was approved Wednesday night by Victoria Labor Council despite statements by several delegates that some churches are anti-labor.

VLC secretary-treasurer A. W. Toone said he was "not too happy" with his experience in pleading labor's cause to church groups "but we are not going to get far if two great forces in Canadian life refuse to sit down together around a table to talk over mutual problems."

ALFRED JOHNSON, formerly of 2008 Kennedy Avenue, Victoria, B.C., has been named executor of the estate of the late Mrs. M. J. Johnson, who died of 44 slash wounds after she was called to sweep up some broken glass in Mundy's sixth-floor Miami Colonial Hotel room Friday.

Earlier, Mundy denied slaying Mrs. Martha Nagy, 44, who died of 44 slash wounds after she was called to sweep up some broken glass in Mundy's sixth-floor Miami Colonial Hotel room Friday.

Prof. Robbins said the scholarship would be awarded to an outstanding student pursuing studies in English at UBC. The first award will be made in May at UBC's spring congregation and it is hoped that there will be sufficient contributions to endow a continuing scholarship, Prof. Robbins said.

Contributions should be sent to the University of B.C. accounting office. Cheques should be made payable to the "University of B.C.—Thorleif Larsen Scholarship Fund."

MADRID, Spain (Reuters)—About 100 political prisoners on hunger strike in Madrid's provincial prison are being given forcible injections of glucose every three hours, it was reported Tuesday night.

City Dairies Crack Down
On U.S. Currency Discount

Discounting of U.S. coins, which began last week in banks and stores, has spread to another city dairy.

Palm Dairies Ltd. has sent out notices to its customers that U.S. coins will be discounted by its delivery men.

Northwestern Creamery Ltd. set a policy back in 1957 to accept no U.S. coins without a discount, and continues to observe it strictly.

"Our drivers know that if they turn in U.S. coinage it will be discounted at the going rate, so we just never see it," a company official said.

Island Farms Dairies has made no set policy on the American coinage, having heard only Wednesday of its bank's intention to discount the foreign silver by 8 per cent.

"We will be penalized by that amount if we don't take some kind of action," a spokesman for the co-operative said.

'FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH' DRUG FOUND?

HAMILTON (CP) — George Aitken, past president of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Wednesday night described a drug being used in Romania which he said may have ended the age-old search for longevity.

Mr. Aitken told the annual dinner of the society's Ontario division he was impressed with the results obtained from the drug at the Institute of Geriatrics in Bucharest, which he visited last fall.

He said Dr. Anna Aslan, director of the clinic, showed him three patients who had been treated with vitamins and the drug, a derivative of novocaine known as H3. He said the British Medical Society had CHAIRMAN—An advocate of strong civil rights program, Chester Bowles has been named platform chairman for the U.S. Democratic national convention in Los Angeles in July.

MIAMI (AP) — Police say they have obtained a statement from a 16-year-old deaf boy that he slashed a hotel maid to death.

A juvenile judge ordered that the text of the alleged confession not be released.

Judge W. R. Culbreath ordered that Harry Lee Mundy III be given a hospital mental examination to see whether he is competent.

"I'm not going to make a three-ring circus of this thing," Culbreath told newsmen. "This was a savage attack. He does not seem to be a savage kid. If there's something wrong with him we want to know it before we go any further."

Police said they recovered the slaying weapon, with the help of a map Mundy drew, but said they got the slaying details orally from the boy. In early questioning they had difficulty understanding his diction, they said, but by the time the slaying, statement was made, they were able to converse with him.

CAN BRAD LIPS
An officer explained that Mundy can hear a little and can read lips. He said the boy's speech was not difficult to understand once a hearer got used to Mundy's pronunciation of consonants.

After giving the oral statement, Mundy wrote out an account of the slaying, police said, before he was taken to a hospital.

Earlier, Mundy denied slaying Mrs. Martha Nagy, 44, who died of 44 slash wounds after she was called to sweep up some broken glass in Mundy's sixth-floor Miami Colonial Hotel room Friday.

KIDNAPPING

Death Threat
In Note

PARIS (Reuters) — The Paris newspaper L'Aurore Wednesday published what it claimed was the text of the ransom letter addressed by the kidnappers of four-year-old Eric Peugeot to his father.

It said the letter, inspired by a crime novel called "abduction" by Lionel White, published in 1935, said:

"Dear M. Peugeot,
"This is what people will read in the papers if you do not carry out our conditions: 'Little Peugeot is dead, horribly tortured, because his parents refused to pay the ransom asked of them.'"

"I would not like to put you in the hands of my friend Dede. Dede is a good type, but he is a little crazy."

"Be reasonable, M. Peugeot. You will hand over the sum of 50 millions, that is 500,000 new francs at a place which will be told you. Above all, do not tell the police. Be reasonable, as we are with you, over this sum."

The letter was found at the St. Cloud golf course on the outskirts of Paris near the spot where Eric Peugeot was kidnapped April 12. The child was returned unharmed Friday after his father paid over the ransom demanded.

DC-6Bs Start
Interior Run

Canadian Pacific Airlines today announced it will replace 40-passenger Convairs with 72-passenger DC-6Bs on its Vancouver-Calgary service beginning Sunday.

CPA sales manager Frank Holland, said the switch is being made because the "rapidly expanding economy of both B.C. and Alberta calls for a rapid build-up in the air services on which the interior communities and enterprises depend."

DC-6Bs, now in use on CPAs international and domestic routes, will make stops at Penicton, Castlegar and Cranbrook eastbound and westbound between Vancouver and Calgary.

UBS Scholarship
To Honor

A scholarship in memory of the late Professor Thorleif Larsen will be established at the University of British Columbia, Professor William Robbins, acting head of UBC's English department announced today.

Prof. Robbins said the scholarship would be awarded to an outstanding student pursuing studies in English at UBC. The first award will be made in May at UBC's spring congregation and it is hoped that there will be sufficient contributions to endow a continuing scholarship, Prof. Robbins said.

Kennedy Lashes Out
On Religious Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts said today "if bigotry is too great" to permit the election of a Roman Catholic as president "then we ought to know it."

In a denial that he is "a Catholic candidate for president," Kennedy called on editors to keep matters of religion in perspective in the campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I do not speak for the Catholic Church on issues of public policy — and no one in that church speaks for me," Kennedy said in a speech prepared for a luncheon session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

TOO MUCH ATTENTION
Kennedy complained about the attention given to his religion in news coverage of the Wisconsin primary, in which he defeated Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and the upcoming West Virginia balloting, where they are opposing each other again.

He said reporters have largely ignored his statements on farm, foreign policy, defense, civil rights and other issues "while featuring the religious inquiries that were made of him."

He said the voters in Protestant West Virginia had hardly given his religion a thought until they read in the newspapers that it was an issue in the campaign.

Kennedy absolved the press from creating the religious issue. He said that his church affiliation "is a fact—religious intolerance is a fact." He added that "the proper role of the press is to report all facts that are a matter of public interest."

But he said he objects to being the only candidate who has to answer questions about such subjects as separation of church and state. He continued:

"There is only one legitimate question underlying all the rest: Would you, as president of the United States, be responsive in any way to ecclesiastical pressures or obligations of any kind that might in any fashion influence or interfere with your conduct of that office in the national interest?"

"I have answered that question many times. My answer was—and is—No. Once that question is answered, there is no legitimate issue of my religion."

DENIES REPRISAL THREAT
Kennedy denied that he or his associates had raised the threat of Catholic reprisals in November if the Democrats do not nominate him.

He said he isn't asking anybody to support him just to prove that the country is not bigoted—a contention made by some of Humphrey's backers in West Virginia.

"I have never suggested that those opposed to me are thereby anti-Catholic," he said. "Nor have I ever suggested that the Democratic party is required to nominate me or face a Catholic revolt in November. I do not believe that to be true—I cannot believe our convention would act on such a premise—and I do believe that a majority of Americans of every faith will support the Democratic nominee, whoever he is."

Kennedy said he is not impressed by pleas that he should settle for the vice-presidency in order to prevent a religious split among the Democrats.

"I find that suggestion highly distasteful," he said. "It assumes the worst about a country which prides itself on being more tolerant and better educated than it was in 1928 when Governor Al Smith of New York, a Catholic, was defeated."

"It assumes that Catholics are a pawn on the political chessboard, moved hither and yon, and somehow 'bought off' by the party putting in the second-spot a Catholic whom the party barred from the top. And it forgets, finally, that such a performance would have an effect on our image abroad as well as our self-respect here at home.

"Are you going to admit to the world that a Jew can be elected mayor of Dublin, a Protestant can be chosen foreign minister of France, a Moslem can serve in the Israeli parliament — but a Catholic cannot be elected president of the United States?"

He said he objects to being the only candidate who has to answer questions about such subjects as separation of church and state. He continued:

"There is only one legitimate question underlying all the rest: Would you, as president of the United States, be responsive in any way to ecclesiastical pressures or obligations of any kind that might in any fashion influence or interfere with your conduct of that office in the national interest?"

Diggers Didn't Dig Him

LONDON (CP) — Rock 'n' roll singer Terry Hale, a 19-year-old digger of rhythm, has been called on the carpet as an unsatisfactory digger of coal.

Hale, an aspiring recording star, tries to do both at once. But his captive listeners at the underground coal face don't another at the Workshop, Nottinghamshire, mine while the underground manager belted out a consistent refrain: "Shut up!"

Hale says he heard that order so often "you could have written a beat number to the theme."

But the determined singer, who doesn't make enough money from his crooning to quit working, kept up the music — "sort of unconscious like."

The underground manager, tired of shouting "shut up!" paraded Hale before an official of the coal board.

The official decided that Hale was employed only to dig coal and since other miners didn't dig Hale there was no point in the singer digging at all.

Hale was out of a job.

MIXED-UP MITFORD SISTERS STILL MAKE BRITAIN BLUSH

By TOM A. CULLEN

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. LONDON (NEA) — The latest mix-up of the crazy, mixed-up Mitfords, as they are known privately, has handed Britain a laugh.

It happened when Nancy, the novelist and society hostess, who is now living in France, was ordered to report to Paris police twice daily during Khrushchev's visit.

The Hon. Nancy (she is entitled to the "Honorable" as the daughter of a baron), it seems, was listed with anti-Soviet foreigners whom French security police were keeping under surveillance.

Of course, it was all a horrible mistake. The police had Nancy, author of "Love in a Cold Climate," confused with her sister Diana, who is married to Sir Oswald Moseley, the British Fascist.

The order was cancelled when the British embassy intervened, but the picture of the Hon. Nancy planting a bomb under the Hon. Khrushchev's chair had some people here in stitches.

No Bomb

Five of the daughters of one of Britain's most eccentric barons, the late Lord Redesdale, have had careers as different as their political ideologies.

One became a Communist, another became a Fascist, and went to jail, while a third married a duke and a fourth shot herself in the head. Nancy achieved literary fame by chronicling the family foibles.

Biggest headline-hitter was tall, blonde, Unity. Valkyrie Mitford, whom Hitler once called "the perfect Nordic beauty." Quite early Unity espoused the Nazi cause, announced, "I want everybody to know I am a Jew-hater."

Then there was Diana, now Lady Moseley, wife of Britain's Fascist leader. During World War II Diana was arrested and detained because of her pro-Nazi views.

Even as a girl in her teens, Deborah Mitford had the intention to marry a duke. She did, and she is now the Duchess of Devonshire, a close friend of Prime Minister Macmillan.

Spanish Loyalist

Another Mitford, Jessica, joined the Communists, ran off to Spain to fight with the Loyalists in the Spanish Civil War.

Anthony Eden wired the British consul at Bilbao, "Find Jessica Mitford and persuade her to return," but Jessica was not to be persuaded — not even when a British destroyer was sent to pick her up.

A matronly 43, Jessica is an American citizen and married to a union lawyer.

The only one of the Mitford girls who has managed to keep out of the headlines is Pam who as a child wanted to become a horse. She didn't.

Character, Too

The girls' father, Lord Redesdale, was something of a character, too. To amuse his daughters, Lord Redesdale used to hunt them across country with bloodhounds. "Other people thought it odd," says Nancy, "but we really loved it."

The Mitfords have known tragedy, too. There was the cold January day in 1940 when Unity returned to Britain from (BB PLUS) "WAKE ME WHEN IT'S OVER" (Royal) — Although there are some sound laughs arising from various situations in 20th Century-Fox's comedy, "Wake Me When It's Over," the plot often stumbles over its own pace with the result that the picture drags too much for its own good.

As written by Richard Breen, the story tells how air force veteran and air force hater Dick Shawn is drawn back for a peacetime stint through a series of blunders that starts off when his wife goads him into applying for some GI insurance.

Before he knows it Shawn is slapped on a remote Pacific island called Shima commanded by Captain Ernie Kovacs with whom Shawn had served previously. To pass the time and to spell the boredom Shawn goes to work building a resort hotel adjacent to some natural hot springs. He uses surplus air force material and soon all the men are stockholders in the enterprise.

Before long success attends the island venture as word leaks out to the Japanese mainland and the boys are flooded with business. But with success also comes grief as back in Washington the brass have come to believe that Shima is a virtual sink-hole and Shawn is thrown into the pokey and charged with everything from embezzlement to running a brothel. Before you can say "fraud" a court martial has been called.

ALTHOUGH KOVACS is funny in a rough, brash way, his admirers might prefer him as his alter ego, his sly, subtle fun as espoused on the television tube. However Shawn emerges as full money's worth as the GI once written off as "dead" and upon his return to the land of the living upon release from a prison camp is given a second serial number, a number that gets him into trouble in the first place. He is a true comedian, possessing that inner, indefinable something that makes you want to smile each time you look at him.

Jack Warden, who acts as Shawn's defence, Margo Moore who plays Kovacs' nurse girl friend and Robert Emhardt are all capable but it would seem that director Mervyn LeRoy's hand might have tightened the action from beginning to end in such a manner that "Wake Me When It's Over" held its patrons more than it does.

999 System Saves Lives In Winnipeg

Mayor Stephen Juba of Winnipeg has written to Mayor Percy Scurrah an outline of that city's new single emergency telephone number system, indicating it was expensive but saving lives.

B.C. Telephone Company currently is conducting a cost survey, at request of Greater Victoria municipalities, on a similar scheme here.

The Winnipeg system, which serves 430,000 people in 16 municipalities, costs nine cents per capita to operate. It involves nine trained telephone operators who man the "999" emergency control panel around the clock.

The system was introduced last year at considerable cost, Mayor Juba said, and although bugs have had to be ironed out, "our experience has not been unhappy."

He said recorders tape every phone call coming in so that they can be played back to decipher messages screamed by hysterical persons in an emergency.

The tape recordings alone have been directly credited with saving eight lives in the last nine months.

An average of 180 emergency calls are handled daily covering police, fire, doctor, ambulance, poison and other calls.

PLEASURE AFLOAT

Boat Owners Should Study Complex Propeller Angles

A propeller appears to be a rather simple device, yet it is one of the most complex parts of the entire boat equipment.

Its function is to convert the power produced by the engine, and delivered to the propeller shaft as torque, into power to propel the boat in the form of thrust. This it does with varying degrees of efficiency depending on how well the propeller matches drive conditions and boat speed.

Few parts of a motor boat have received more attention, or have been the object of more research, than the propeller. If the propulsion system is considered as an arch, the propeller is certainly the keystone. Every propeller is designed to absorb a certain amount of power at a specified rpm, and at a given propeller speed through the water.

With a full chine form planing hull, the speed of the propeller is the same as the boat speed. It may be as low as 75 per cent of the boat speed with other types of hulls.

No Miracle Assured

Many owners have the idea that all they need is a different propeller to make their boat perform miracles. While it is true that propeller changes have improved boat performances in some instances, sometimes the change is a disappointment. Any propeller delivers its best performance at the value of boat speed, propeller speed, and power for which it was designed.

Any deviation from these values reduces its efficiency. If a boat has a top speed of 25 miles an hour, it is foolish to equip the engine with a propeller designed for efficient operation at 40 miles per hour.

For Higher Speed

Often an owner wishes to obtain a higher boat speed and believes it is simply a matter of installing a motor of greater horsepower with a suitable propeller. While it is possible the increased horsepower may result in a slightly higher speed, the increase is often much less than anticipated. The higher speed may also cause operating difficulties such as instability, difficulty in steering, tripping, purpoising, and similar unsafe conditions.

In designing a boat one of the first factors considered, and the first design decision is its operating speed. All other elements in the design are then based on this selected speed. Any increase in speed beyond that for which the boat was designed can lead to serious trouble.

Find out the speed for which your boat was designed and the maximum power that can be safely used before buying that bigger engine.

MAY 1 NAMED SAFETY DAY FOR CHILDREN

Child Safety Day, designed to help parents think of home and play hazards for their children, will be held May 1.

Harry Talbot, president of the Greater Victoria and District Safety Council, pointed out some of the common home dangers were highly-polished floors, sharp tools within easy reach, nails in loose boards, and medicines.

"We want parents to look around their homes to see what dangers exist. It is hard for an adult to look at things with a child's eye, but it is essential."

Saanich Museum Tea Scheduled

A tea will be held Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the "pioneer" cabin on the Saanichton agricultural grounds, East Saanich Road, to spark public interest in the historical items in the cabin's museum.

The museum itself, containing native handicrafts and relics, will be open to the public Saturday afternoons, June through August.

Cheap Water Bait to Keep Roofing Firm

Greater Victoria water board Wednesday tentatively agreed to sell 150,000,000 gallons of surplus water annually to the city at less than cost in order to keep Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd. from moving to the mainland.

The company, which still employs 40 persons here, uses that much water in its operations. Since 1932, it has paid three cents per 1,000 gallons under a special agreement.

When the agreement runs out Aug. 1, it will have to pay at least 13 cents per 1,000 gallons, the wholesale rate charged to the city by the water board.

Mayor Percy Scurrell said the company had indicated that it would completely shut down its local operations unless it could get a cheaper rate.

The board instructed its solicitor to prepare a resolution covering sale of the water to the city at a 45 per cent reduction, which would be passed on to Sidney Roofing.

Water commissioner Ronald Upward said if the company left, the district would lose "about $12,000 a year we would get for surplus water."

But Saanich Reeve George Chatterton opposed the proposal on the grounds that it would set a precedent for other industries to ask for a reduction in water rates.

Work Camps Next Step In Prison Plan—Fulton

WE PAY MORE FOR SUGAR THAN ANYONE

WINNIPEG (CP) — Sugar prices in Canada are the highest in the world, crown prosecutor F. O. Meighan said today at the trial of two sugar companies charged with forming a combine.

Mr. Meighan said in a rebuttal statement that there was a price-fixing agreement between eastern and western refineries and that the Manitoba Sugar Company, while it was independent, threatened the whole pricing structure of the Canadian sugar industry.

British Columbia Sugar Refining Company Limited and B.C. Sugar Refinery Limited are being tried on a charge of forming a sugar combine by acquiring control of the Manitoba firm.

PTA Rejects Bible Readings

PENTICTON (CP) — Delegates at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Association have rejected the idea of reading the Ten Commandments in schools at least once a week.

A resolution from Westridge PTA in Burnaby near Vancouver calling for this was defeated Wednesday.

The Westridge group said the reading would help combat any tendency toward a breakdown in family life.

The resolutions committee said it was inconceivable that the reading of one passage could stop the breakdown of family life "even if it had been established that such a breakdown was presently occurring in Canada."

Four Girls Killed In Tenement Blaze

WINNIPEG (CP) — Four girls ranging in age from five to 18 died today when fire swept a frame tenement building in central Winnipeg, sending six persons to hospital and forcing evacuation of about 90 persons.

The dead were identified as Catherine Black, 7, her sister, Heather, 5, Doreen Thomas, 17, and her sister, Audrey, 18.

Fire department officials said the blaze started in a small front room of the building, burned through the second and third floors and ate through the roof.

Next "forward step" in Canada's gradually-changing penitentiary system will be the establishment of work camps, Justice Minister F. Davie Fulton said here today.

Mr. Fulton made the statement during a tour of the William Head minimum security prison.

He said the federal cabinet had approved a work camp program, and that two officials at penitentiary headquarters had been assigned to survey projects on which prisoners could be employed.

"We feel that certain types of prisoners have a better chance of rehabilitation if they work outdoors during their term," he said. "The projects we have in mind would in no way compete with private industry or labor."

He said the projects would probably be federal ones, in national parks or forest work, with possible provincial projects in the future.

"We will go very slowly," he said. "This is an experiment, just as the minimum security prison here was an experiment when it started."

'Open Type Pen' Proven Success

Interviewed before he began a tour of the William Head establishment, he said it had already proven a great success.

"It was established on a temporary basis, to see if the idea was sound, and also if the location was a good one. The first question has been answered in the affirmative. A decision on the second will be made in the near future."

Mr. Fulton said complaints from residents near the minimum security prison had just about died out. "I have had only one letter of complaint in the past six months, and it was very general in nature."

B.C. Blocks Columbia, Says Winch

VANCOUVER (CP) — Harold Winch said Wednesday night the British Columbia government "wants to do everything to stop development of the Columbia River."

"It is obvious that they have a commitment with somebody for something," said the CCF member of parliament for Vancouver East at a constituency meeting.

He said by favoring the High Arrow dam the government is attempting to block full development of the Columbia.

Construction of the High Arrow would mean B.C. would not "get one horsepower of power produced in our own country" because it would merely be a reservoir for power facilities in the U.S. and could not be used to generate power on the spot.

"If that happens it will be the greatest sell-out of our day," he said.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Eternal God, our Father, teach us the true meaning of fellowship. May we not seek it of Thee until we have found it in each other, nor count that which we find in each other until we also find it in Thee. May we not seek for privilege, only communion and trust and the deeper knowledge of the reality of Thy presence. Help us to grow in the culture of this fellowship and become true sons of God, forever, in Christ's name. Amen.

Emergency Session Called

New Vote Urged In Korea Crisis

FOR DE GAULLE

Rousing Montreal Welcome

MONTREAL (CP) — President Charles de Gaulle of France, given a rousing welcome today in this second largest French-speaking city of the world, said today "free men have reason to feel stronger" on the eve of forthcoming summit meetings.

The president made this statement during a brief address at one stage of his six-hour visit.

Following a welcome at city hall, de Gaulle went to a mid-town hotel. Across from the hotel in Dominion Square a tremendous crowd, estimated to be at least 10,000, was jammed.

Speaking in French at a reception at Montreal city hall, de Gaulle said "the spectacle of this very great and very beautiful city is a source of comfort to me on the eve of great meetings."

His address of about three minutes was in reply to an official welcome by Senator Sarto Fournier, mayor of Montreal, an hour after the president had arrived at Montreal airport from Quebec City.

QUEEN ELIZABETH ... 34 today

TOWNSEND IN U.K.

Monarch Shares Headlines

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth, who reached the age of 34 today, shared newspaper space with Peter Townsend.

Princess Margaret's former heart throb brought his bride of four months to Britain for the first time and hit the news papers only two weeks before Margaret marries commoner Antony Armstrong-Jones.

"Has there ever been anyone like Townsend," asked Daily Express columnist William Hickey, "for backing cautiously, timidly, diffidently, devastatingly into the limelight?"

Townsend packed his bags today and with his bride headed for France. If a had been here nearly a week. But his presence only became known Wednesday.

He said he had been visiting his mother in rural Somerset.

"Many people were surprised," wrote The Daily Mail's Paul Taniell, "that Townsend should choose this moment to make his first trip to London since his marriage."

Rhee Stands 'Almost Alone'

SEOUL (Reuters) — While President Syngman Rhee pondered his crumbling administration, rival political parties met today and decided to hold an emergency session of South Korea's National Assembly Friday.

The 85-year-old president was almost alone as he sought to appease his people and restore order in riot-torn Seoul and other major cities.

Both his cabinet and the central committee of his ruling Liberal party resigned today and accepted responsibility for this week's violence in which hundreds of anti-government demonstrators were killed or wounded.

Unconfirmed newspaper reports said Rhee had also accepted the resignation of his chief secretary, Park Chan Il, a man with considerable influence in Korean politics.

Liberal government party members of the National Assembly and Democratic (opposition) members decided on the emergency meeting to seek ways of settling the unrest and ending the crisis.

Following the resignations Rhee summoned six senior "neutral" politicians to his residence — guarded by troops, tanks and barbed-wire barricades — to discuss the crisis.

Rhee's opposition continued to demand new presidential elections.

Promise of Redress 'Not Enough'

The 85-year-old president's move toward correcting underlying causes of discontent, United States Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy met with Rhee for an hour to press the U.S. demand for more democracy as a solution to the situation.

The retiring ministers neither fixed nor accepted the responsibility for the harsh military suppression of the civilian outbreaks.

UN Official Murdered In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters) — French UNESCO official M. P. Chabert was murdered and his wife and another woman kidnapped Wednesday night at a hill resort 50 miles from here, United Nations officials said today.

Mrs. Chabert and the other woman, a Hungarian who runs a small hotel where the Chaberts and their two children were staying, were later released.

Officials for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization said the crime might have political implications.

A group of unidentified men entered the hotel last Wednesday and stabbed Chabert, a primary education expert, and kidnapped the women.

FRIENDLY CHAT with pupils of bookkeeping class at William Head minimum security prison today was typical of informal tour by Justice Minister F. Davie Fulton. Noticeable by absence are usual prison numbers; every effort is made to treat each prisoner as an individual as part of rehabilitation program. (Times photo by Strickland.)

CAPITAL CITY HONORS PAID TOP B.C. SCOUTS, GUIDES

234 Cheerful Youngsters Defy Weather

Sturdy Queen's Scouts, 172 of them, dried out around a crackling camp fire in Kwakiutl House, Thunderbird Park, this morning while rain and hail rattled on the roof overhead.

From cities and towns, from mountains, valleys and farmlands—from every corner of this far-flung province—the Scouts and 62 Girl Guides had come to Victoria for the honor of receiving their Queen's Scout certificates from Lieut.-Governor Frank Ross at Government House, the girls to get their Golden Cords.

And Victoria welcomed them with rain, rain and more rain.

But it takes more than bad weather to shake the patience and courtesy of a Queen's Scout. While Victorians mumbled apologies, the well-mannered lads replied with:

"Oh, it isn't so bad, Sir."

This afternoon the Scouts and Guides attended annual investiture at Government House where Mr. Ross formally presented certificates to the Scouts and Gold Cords to the Girl Guides.

Both are the highest service awards in Scouting and Guiding and months of hard work and study are required to qualify for them.

Before the investiture Scouts and Guides were entertained to lunch in the ballroom at Government House by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross. It was the first Scout reception to be held in new Government House and the last time Mr. Ross will officiate as he is retiring at the end of this year.

At the head table were George Hayashi from Rutland; Bernard Theker, Valemont; Robert Norton, Stewart; Ann Lythgoe, Campbell River; Elaine Weston, Kitimat; Jo Hutchinson, Rossland, and Arlene Kermode from Vernon.

The blessing was asked by Queen's Scout Robert Norton.

Earlier the scouts tramped through the rain to Thunderbird Park, for a welcome by Public Works Minister W. N. Chant on behalf of the B.C. government.

They then inspected Mungo Martin's totem-carving workshop, toured the Legislative Buildings and the Provincial Museum and went for a swim in the Crystal Garden.

Around the camp fire in Kwakiutl House (the fire was provided by Mungo Martin) the mainland scouts chattered enthusiastically of their trip to Esquimalt Wednesday aboard the RCN ships HMCS Fraser and HMCS Beacon Hill.

"The scouts explored the ships from stem to stern," said Provincial Field Commissioner Dennis Flawith. "They had a grand time."

The Scouts displayed a polite interest in the buildings but reserved most of their enthusiasm for the museum. "I could spend a whole morning here," said Cliff Ramsey, 17, of New Westminster. "This is a swell place."

As they passed the office of Attorney-General Robert Bonner, one of the Scouts said: "That's the man who makes the traffic laws."

Tonight at the Empress Hotel the visitors will be entertained to dinner by the B.C. Boy Scouts' council. Guest speaker will be Bruce Hutchison, editor of The Victoria Times.

Scouts and Guides will leave Victoria at 7.30 a.m. Friday.

City Club Taxation Plea Opens

An appeal against exemption of the Pacific Club from city business tax opened in Supreme Court chambers today with legal manoeuvring.

Purpose was to settle the issue on questions of procedure but Mr. Justice Rutan reserved decision on the technical points and ordered lawyers to give their arguments on the merits of the case.

The appeal was launched by the Vancouver Island section of the Canadian Restaurant Association, in the name of its honorary secretary Mrs. Dulcinea Guelpa, after a four-alderman court of revision took the club off the business tax roll last month.

NO JURISDICTION

Alan Bigelow, Pacific Club lawyer, agreed with a contention by Mrs. Guelpa's lawyer, Rodney Taylor, that the court of revision had no jurisdiction to decide assessability of the club.

"It can only rule on whether the assessment is too high or too low," said Mr. Taylor. But Mr. Bigelow countered that Mrs. Guelpa had no right to launch an appeal so the action should be dismissed anyway.

Mr. Taylor said under the Municipal Act "any person" had the right to make an appeal. Even if Mrs. Guelpa did not have a right to appeal, the judge knew about the court of revision's lack of jurisdiction so he should wipe out its decision anyway.

Judge Rutan reserved decision on this point and also on an application by Mr. Bigelow for an adjournment of the hearing after he was told that Friday is the deadline for a decision under the Municipal Act.

Noting that an adjournment would defeat the appeal, Judge Rutan said "it's just an impossible situation to put a strait jacket like that on the court."

LISTEN TO THIS: "SOME NEWBORN INFANTS ARE HIGHLY INFECTIOUS TO OTHERS, AND BECAUSE THEY ARE LITERALLY SURROUNDED BY CLOUDS OF BACTERIA, THEY ARE CALLED 'CLOUD BABIES.'"

A 17-year-old Victoria boy pleaded guilty in Colwood RCMP court Wednesday to being a minor in possession of liquor and was fined $25, and $5.50 costs.

Police said the boy, whose name was withheld because of his age, had two bottles of brandy and two bottles of gin when he was stopped in a car with five companions.

HERE AND THERE ...

With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Are there any versatile dancers, singers and comedians left in Victoria?

If there are not, Jerry Gosley's Summer Smile Show may cease to exist, for Jerry is having difficulty finding the necessary talent to keep up this midsummer attraction.

"Already," he says, "we are getting inquiries from as far afield as California. I want to save the show, but to do so I must have enough entertainers of professional standard to help me."

Where is that Victoria talent?

"An average neighborhood," says pundit R. J. Hillyer of Foul Bay Road, "is one where the folks on both sides of the fence are sure their kids would be better behaved if they didn't play with the kids next door."

Or didn't play at all!

Retiring from the Bank of Montreal in Victoria this month after 45 years' service is old soldier Eric Henderson of 815 Linden Avenue.

Eric was actually born over the Bank of Montreal's premises at Vernon where his father was branch manager. He served overseas in the First and Second World Wars and after his retirement plans to devote more time to the study of regimental histories.

Who remembers Billy Bunter?

A Times reader advertised recently for a pre-war copy of the Holiday Annual which used to contain the unlikely adventures of Bunter and his unlikely classmates at an English public (private) school.

"I didn't get any replies," he writes.

Does anyone remember Bunter?

I hear that Godfrey White, who used to be a bell-ringer at Christ Church Cathedral, is now flying a plane on Canadian Pacific Airlines route between Montreal and Rome and is enjoying his weekly visits to the ancient capital.

His mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hewitt White, lives at 86 Kingham Place and has just been elected to her 15th year as secretary of the Dickens Fellowship.

Blast Injures Eight at Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eight men were injured today when an explosion ripped apart the Western Gypsum Products Ltd. plant on Vancouver's waterfront. Eyewitnesses said it was a miracle no one was killed. The blast ripped off the roof of the frame building and hurled jagged sheets of corrugated iron in all directions. Three walls at the west end of the building were blown down.

White-Collar Dock Workers Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—White-collar workers of New York shipping firms went on strike today and their waterfront picket lines threatened a tieup of all port traffic. Longshoremen refused to cross the picket lines set up by Local 153 of the Office Employees International Union, and also refused to work on some piers where pickets had not appeared. Only about 200 pickets were actually on duty.

Four Girls Killed In Tenement Blaze

WINNIPEG (CP)—Four girls ranging in age from five to 18 died today when fire swept a frame tenement building in central Winnipeg, sending six persons to hospital and forcing evacuation of about 90 persons. The dead were identified as Catherine Black, 7, her sister, Heather, 5, Doreen Thomas, 17, and her sister, Audrey, 18. Fire department officials said the blaze started in a small front room of the building, burned through the second and third floors and ate through the roof. There were six units side-by-side in the long building. All of those killed lived in one unit. Adjacent units were damaged by fire.

Israelis Kill 2

JERUSALEM (UPI)—An Israeli army spokesman announced today an Israeli patrol had killed two Egyptians and captured a third Wednesday on the central Negev. "Has there ever been anyone like Townsend," asked Daily Express columnist William Hickey, "for backing cautiously, timidly, diffidently, devastatingly into the limelight?"

Monarch Shares Headlines

LONDON (AP)—Queen Elizabeth, who reached the age of 34 today, shared newspaper space with Peter Townsend.

Princess Margaret's former heart throb brought his bride of four months to Britain for the first time and hit the newspapers only two weeks before Margaret marries, commoner Anthony Armstrong Jones.

"Has there ever been anyone like Townsend," asked Daily Express columnist William Hickey, "for backing cautiously, timidly, diffidently, devastatingly into the limelight?"

Townsend packed his bags today and with his bride headed for France. He had been here nearly a week. But his presence only became known Wednesday.

He said he had been visiting his mother in rural Somerset. "Many people were surprised," wrote The Daily Mail's Paul Taniely, "that Townsend should choose this moment to make his first trip to London since his marriage."

EMERGENCY SESSION

New Vote Urged In Korea Crisis

SEOUL (Reuters)—While President Syngman Rhee pondered his crumbling administration, rival political parties met today and decided to hold an emergency session of South Korea's National Assembly Friday.

The 85-year-old president was almost alone as he sought to appease his people and restore order in riot-torn Seoul and other major cities.

Both his cabinet and the central committee of his ruling Liberal party resigned today and accepted responsibility for this week's violence in which hundreds of anti-government demonstrators were killed or wounded.

Unconfirmed newspaper reports said Rhee had also accepted the resignation of his chief secretary, Park Chan Il, a man with considerable influence in Korean politics.

Liberal government party members of the National Assembly and Democratic (opposition) members decided on the emergency meeting to seek ways of settling the unrest and ending the crisis.

Following the resignations Rhee summoned six senior "neutral" politicians to his residence—guarded by troops, tanks and barbed-wire barricades—to discuss the crisis. Rhee's opposition continued to demand new presidential elections.

INSUFFICIENT

The 85-year-old president's opposition also declared that his promise of redress for those with "major grievances" was insufficient. The promise came in the wake of bloody anti-government riots Tuesday that brought martial law to the capital and other major Korean cities.

There were no reports of renewed violence as troops and police patrolled the cities. But tension mounted as the bodies of demonstrators shot by police were turned over to weeping, wailing relatives.

With at least 1,000 persons shot during the riots, the known death toll stood at 147. Hundreds more still were in critical condition.

Vice President John M. Chang, leader of the opposition Democratic party, declared there would be no compromise in his party's demand for new elections.

BIGGEST VOTE

Chang lost his bid for reelection last month to Lee Ki-poong, Rhee's Liberal party running mate. Rhee, running unopposed after the death of the Democratic party candidate, piled up the biggest vote of his career.

The election was the principal issue behind the uprisings. The Democrats have charged Rhee's Liberals with rigging the voting and widespread ballot box stuffing.

The cabinet resignations appeared to be initially an apology for the bloodshed and not a move toward correcting underlying causes of discontent.

United States Ambassador Walter P. McCaughy met with Rhee for an hour to press the U.S. demand for more democracy as a solution to the situation.

FOR DE GAULLE

Rousing Montreal Welcome

MONTREAL (CP)—

President Charles de Gaulle of France, given a rousing welcome today in this second largest French-speaking city of the world, said today "free men have reason to feel stronger" on the eve of forthcoming summit meetings.

The president made this statement during a brief address at one stage of his six-hour visit.

Following a welcome at city hall, de Gaulle went to a mid-town hotel. Across from the hotel in Dominion Square a tremendous crowd, estimated to be at least 10,000, was jammed.

Speaking in French at a reception at Montreal city hall, de Gaulle said "the spectacle of this very great and very beautiful city is a source of comfort to me on the eve of great meetings."

His address of about three minutes was in reply to an official welcome by Senator Sarto Fournier, mayor of Montreal, an hour after the president had arrived at Montreal airport from Quebec City.

CROWD OF 2,500

When de Gaulle stepped from the city hall to go to a downtown hotel he walked across the street to shake hands with a group of veterans among the crowd of 2,500.

Immediately 40 or 50 spectators broke through the police cordon and crowded about the laughing president.

Some succeeded in shaking his hand. Others managed only to pat his shoulders, with cries of "Vive de Gaulle" in the good-natured jostling and milling about.

RCMP and city police had a strenuous time in freeing the president, who seemed to enjoy every second of the spontaneous demonstration before moving to his limousine.

At the Windsor Hotel, in mid-town Montreal, de Gaulle tendered a reception to about 600 members of the French colony in Montreal.

De Gaulle arrived in Toronto later today for a 17-hour visit.

UN Official Murdered In Laos

VIENTIANE, Laos (Reuters)—French UNESCO official M. P. Chabert was murdered and his wife and another woman kidnapped Wednesday night at a hill resort 50 miles from here, United Nations officials said today.

Mrs. Chabert and the other woman, a Hungarian who runs a small hotel where the Chaberts and their two children were staying, were later released.

Officials for the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization said the crime might have political implications.

A group of unidentified men entered the hotel last Wednesday and stabbed Chabert, a primary education expert, and kidnapped the women.

Castro to Speak

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro will make a nationwide radio and television address Friday night, it was announced today. The premier is expected to make "important statements" on national and international topics, the announcement said.

Justice Minister Reveals Program

Next "forward step" in Canada's gradually-changing penitentiary system will be the establishment of work camps, Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton said here today.

Mr. Fulton made the statement during a tour of the William Head minimum security prison.

He said the federal cabinet had approved a work camp program, and that two officials at penitentiary headquarters had been assigned to survey projects on which prisoners could be employed.

"We feel that certain types of prisoners have a better chance of rehabilitation if they work outdoors during their term," he said. "The projects we have in mind would in no way compete with private industry or labor."

He said the projects would probably be federal ones, in national parks or forest work, with possible provincial projects in the future.

"We will go very slowly," he said. "This is an experiment, just as the minimum security prison here was an experiment when it started."

Interviewed before he began a tour of the William Head establishment, he said it had already proven a great success.

COMPLAINTS DWINDLE

"It was established on a temporary basis, to see if the idea was sound, and also if the location was a good one. The first question has been answered in the affirmative. A decision on the second will be made in the near future."

Mr. Fulton said complaints from residents near the minimum security prison had just about died out. "I have had only one letter of complaint in the past six months, and it was very general in nature."

He said the gradual change in prison administration in Canada is based on the idea of useful employment and vocational training.

Mr. Fulton intends to visit all prison establishments in Canada this year. Wednesday he was at the B.C. Penitentiary, New Westminster—the first justice minister ever to inspect the prison since it was established in 1878.

Accompanying the minister on the day-long tour at William Head were his executive assistant, James Macaulay; Warden F. C. B. Cummings; William Head superintendent H. A. Collins, and Victoria M.L.A. deB. McPhillips.

WE PAY MORE FOR SUGAR THAN ANYONE

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sugar prices in Canada are the highest in the world, crown prosecutor F. O. Meighen said today at the trial of two sugar companies charged with forming a combine.

Mr. Meighen said in a rebuttal statement that there was a price-fixing agreement between eastern and western refineries and that the Manitoba Sugar Company, while it was independent, threatened the whole pricing structure of the Canadian sugar industry.

British Columbia Sugar Refining Company Limited and B.C. Sugar Refinery Limited are being tried on a charge of forming a sugar combine by acquiring control of the Manitoba firm.

PTA Rejects Bible Readings

PENTICTON (CP)—Delegates at the annual meeting of the British Columbia Parent-Teacher Association have rejected the idea of reading the Ten Commandments in schools at least once a week. A resolution from Westridge PTA in Burnaby near Vancouver calling for this was defeated Wednesday.

The Westridge group said the reading would help combat any tendency toward a breakdown in family life.

The resolutions committee said it was inconceivable that the reading of one passage could stop the breakdown of family life "even if it had been established that such a breakdown was presently occurring in Canada."

Libel Suit Launched

VANCOUVER (CP)—Writs alleging the Toronto Telegram libelled Irene Rebrin, University of British Columbia lecturer ordered deported, have been issued in B.C. Supreme Court.

FRIENDLY CHAT with pupils of bookkeeping class at William Head minimum security prison today was typical of informal tour by Justice Minister E. Davie Fulton. Noticeable by absence are usual prison numbers; every effort is made to treat each prisoner as an individual as part of rehabilitation program. — (Times photo by Strickland.)
